FROM HERE ON MEN, THIS IS IT!

It's Farewell and Godspeed Today for Draftees

By LARRY DAVIS
(Mercury Staff Writer)

Ten men from Pottstown and two from Fagleysville rise at an early hour today. This morning they are civilians. Tonight they will be members of the U. S. Army.

They are the first from here to be inducted into the armed forces in five years.

The day will be a long one for them, filled with a mixture of emotions stemming from their call to the colors. What role they will play in the days to come, there is no one to say.

From here on, men, this is it.

THERE'S NO TELLING what thoughts run through a man's mind on a day like this. At breakfast this morning, some are strangely quiet. Others are rattling off instructions on what to do about this or that because "I just didn't have time to get it done."

They glance up often at the clock on the kitchen wall. No matter how early they rise, there just isn't enough time. Or so it seems.

A man going off to service isn't quite sure what he should take along. Certainly not a suitcase full of clothes. He tries to think about underwear, handkerchiefs, toilet articles.

In the end, he has everything in a small hand bag. And it doesn't look like too much. After all, the Army provides about everything, so why worry about it?

From here on, men, this is it.

THE HANDS OF THE clock show 6 a. m. Time to be moving, since it won't hurt to be a little early. They are to report at borough hall at 6:30 o'clock. Train time is 7:20 from the Reading station.

But, before that there are other things. One by one, they leave. Most are accompanied by their families; and friends show up for the farewells.

At borough hall they report to R. Ross Longaker, clerk for Draft Board 110, and present their orders.

John and Joseph Becsi, brothers from Fagleysville, head the alphabetical roster. Then John A. Bracaglia, 101 East Howard street, Stowe, and Lamar L. Gaugler, of the Merchants hotel.

Borough Sewer Survey Okayed

By EDWARD B. ROSENBERG
(Mercury Staff Writer)

Borough Manager Dow I. Sears and his assistant, Frank J. Keegan, were asked last night to survey all of Pottstown's sewer needs, including the sewerless and waterless blocks on Sheridan and Mintzer streets.

Council's highway-sewer and finance committees, meeting together in borough hall, also asked Sears and Keegan to bring back an estimate of the cost of laying the sewers.

The borough health board recommended at its Sept. 11 meeting that sewer and water service be supplied for families in 15 homes on Sheridan street, from Morris street to one-half block north of Jackson street, and in 10 homes on Mintzer street, from Beech to Jackson street.

These old houses never had utility service, the board noted.

Sears said that he could bring in an estimate within a small percentage of a contractor's exact bid for putting sewers under the two streets, as well as under other borough streets still lacking them.

He declared that more than 98 percent of Pottstown's homes now have sewer service, but added "We have $100,000 worth of sewers to build and $30,000 in the fund to build them."

FOUR SHERIDAN street residents came to the committee meeting to ask for water and sewer service. Theye were Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert S. Pennypacker, 811 Sheridan street; William Malone, 807 Sheridan street, and James Carter, 815 Sheridan street.

Pennypacker said, "We'd like to have water, and sewer too, if we can get it. Water service would give us fire protection too—we don't have that now."

The group remained in the meeting room only a few minutes, presenting the case for themselves and for their neighbors briefly and quietly.

They said—and believed their neighbors would also agree—they were willing to sign off their property rights on Sheridan street, which is not ordained as a public road north of Lincoln avenue.

Before the petitioners left, Sears told them, "We know your needs and we'll do everything we can." The committee members also agreed that work should be speeded on sewer and water lines for the neglected areas.

THE BOROUGH manager explained that sewer and water lines could be put in at the same time.

He estimated that 2200 feet of sewers, involving digging through solid rock, would cost $18,000 to $20,000, and that 2200 feet of water

MARINES REACH SEOUL SUBURBS

Battle in Yongdungpo Area; Yanks Stream Across West Bank of Naktong

TOKYO, Tuesday, Sept. 19 (AP)—American Marines with powerful Patton tanks battled through the Seoul suburb of Yongdungpo today while 150 to 175 miles southeast American infantry seized two bridgeheads on the west bank of the Naktong river Monday and this morning.

U. S. Navy carrier-based pilots reported they saw the Marines in Yongdungpo Monday at the head of an endless column of tanks, trucks and vehicles, moving up from the Inchon beachhead a score of miles to the west.

Yongdungpo is a southwest industrial suburb of the Korean capital, on the southwest bank of the Han river across from the city proper.

Previous field reports from correspondents had placed the Marine spearhead less than three miles from Seoul and about a mile outside Yongdungpo.

In the coordinated offensive to break out of the old Pusan perimeter in southeast Korea, elements

New Appointments Are Announced on Faculty at The Hill

Seven new faculty appointments were announced by Dr. James I. Wendell, head master, last night at the faculty meeting which officially opened the 100th year of The Hill school.

Six men and a woman were named to fill faculty posts for the forthcoming school year. Assignments were made to the history, mathematics, science and English departments as well as to the library.

Several administrative appointments also were made by Dr. Wendell. Arthur F. Jackson, formerly head of the Fifth form, was appointed Sixth form adviser, while Kenneth V. Jackman and David H. Mercer were named as advisers to the Fifth form.

Charles M. Donovan became head of the Middle school, with Walter H. Lemley, formerly adviser to the Sixth form, assigned as adviser to the Second and Third forms.

Car's Front End Well Mashed in Crash

This 1950 sedan is being towed past the scarred electric pole it hit on High street near Madison street early yesterday after it hit one tree and before it hit two more trees and another car. Parts from the mashed front were thrown in a 50-foot circle. The driver and passenger were injured seriously. A mechanic, John Keifrider, is looking at the half of the windshield at the right of the picture. It was not even cracked.

Two Badly Injured as Auto Bounces Off 3 Trees, Pole

Two Pottstown men were injured seriously early yesterday when their big new sedan failed to make the curve on High street near Madison street and hit three sizeable trees, an electric pole and then another car.

The driver of the new sedan, Gerry L. Miller, 34, of 1224 Cherry street, suffered fractures of the right knee and collar-bone and lacerations of the right knee and mouth.

His condition during the day was too serious for police to question him.

His passenger, who was thrown onto the highway, was M. Fletcher Seitz, 33, of 1123 Queen street. Seitz had a fractured skull, a deep laceration of the back of the head and possible rib injuries. He was owner of the car.

Both men were admitted to the Memorial hospital.

The other driver, Samuel M. Randazzo, 23, of 619 King street, was not injured.

Randazzo said he was alone in his car, driving east on High street at 2:20 o'clock when, through his rear-view mirror, he saw Seitz's car speeding up behind him.

"HE GOES BY on the inside lane—to my right," Randazzo said. "Pretty fast. The next thing I know he's over the curb and hitting trees, then a pole, then a tree."

Randazzo said he was about even with Seitz's sedan when it headed for the third and biggest tree.

Swerving his car across the center of the highway toward The Hill's side of the street, Randazzo saw Seitz's sedan hit the third tree head-on, then bounce back toward his car.

Randazzo said, "The car came through the air at me—completely in the air. It just seemed to drop on mine."

By his sudden swerving, Randazzo avoided a broadside collision, but Seitz's sedan hit the right rear of his car.

Machain Brothers' Trials Are Postponed to October

A postponement of the trials of James and Joseph F. Machain, proprietors of the Club 100 on South Hanover street, was granted by the district attorney's office yesterday to give Defense Attorney Joseph L. Prince an opportunity to observe Yom Kippur.

The trials, which were scheduled to be held this week before President Judge Harold G. Knight, have been continued until the October term of Criminal Court. The session opens Oct. 2.

Both brothers are charged with violations of the State liquor laws, pandering, and prostitution and assignation.

Yom Kippur to Be Observed by Jews Thursday With Prayers and Fasting

The holiest day in the Jewish year — Yom Kippur — the day of atonement, will be celebrated Thursday with a 24-hour fast and daylong prayers in the Congregation Mercy and Truth synagog.

In observance of the holiday, nearly all of the stores owned by members of Pottstown's Jewish community will be closed for the day.

The biblical fast day, which was ordained in the Book of Leviticus, will bring to an end a ten-day period of penitence which began with the observance of Rosh Hashanah, the 5711th Jewish New Year the past Tuesday.

A solemn ceremony marked the holiday in Biblical times. It was the only day in the year on which the high priest could enter the Holy of Holies, where the Ark of the Covenant was stored in the temple, and offer incense.

FOLLOWING THE RITUAL, he would bless the people gathered in the temple courtyard by pronouncing the ineffable name of God. The name was lost and its pronunciation forgotten when the temple was destroyed.

The biblical ceremony still is retained in the "Avodah," a long poem which forms the keystone of the Mussaph service.

Observance of the holiday will begin at 6:38 o'clock tomor-

Legion Seats Kelley As Post Commander

Joseph A. Kelley Jr., 856 South street, was installed last night as commander of the George A. Amole Post 47, American Legion, at ceremonies held in the post home, King and Franklin streets.

The installation was conducted by Deputy Ninth District Commander Harry Ginther in the absence of Norman John, district commander.

Kelley thus becomes the fourth veteran of World War II to lead the local organization, succeeding Leonard Rachild to the top office. He is also the fourth Navy veteran to be elected successively as head of the Legion here.

Installed with Kelley were the following officers:

Harry W. Wilson Jr., first vice commander; Clarence R. Renoll, second vice commander; Joseph H. Burdan, finance officer; Ralph Guest, adjutant; Ginther and John, service officers; Frank Weber and William Ashworth, sergeants-at-arms; the Rev. Dr. Luther A. Krouse, chaplain; Renoll as assistant chaplain, and J. Russell Reifsneider, historian.

Athletic officers sworn in are Raymond "Pidgie" Kepner and John Hospador. The executive committee includes James I. Gill, Clarence R. Fox, William H. Yohn, Rachild and Wilson.

SHORTAGES SEEN MAJOR SNAG TO LOCAL BUILDING

U. S. Anti-Hoard Curbs To Have Neglible Effect Here, Contractors Report

By FRED C. SELBY
(Mercury Staff Writer)

Federal anti-hoarding controls on building materials will have little effect on Pottstown's building boom, but the reason for the controls—the building materials shortage—already is hampering home-building here.

In reporting this yesterday, Pottstown contractors said many projects already have been slowed down by the shortage, and although few if any cancellations have been made, even these are a possibility if the shortage grows worse.

L. Ernest Pickard explained why the government order limiting purchases of such building materials as cement, gypsum board and lath to "a practicable minimum working inventory" would have little effect here.

He said Pottstown contractors have been working with just such a minimum inventory since the shortage began, several months ago. "And we feel we're lucky if we can get that much," he added.

Pickard and the other contractors queried—Allen K. Davidheiser Jr., B. Frank Hutt Jr., Earl M. Kerstetter, and Paul L. A. Keiser—were in general agreement that the shortage had hit rock lath, cement and lumber the hardest.

About the only other item not mentioned by some contractor as being in short supply was nails.

THEY ALSO AGREED generally that overbuying, which the U. S. controls were designed to prevent, had been a virtual impossibility for months.

Davidheiser said that the biggest part of the shortage was "just due to the fact that this is the largest building year this country has ever seen."

Since the year started with business and Administration leaders advising building-material manufacturers to guard against over-production there had not been nearly enough on hand to maintain abundant supplies as the boom continued, Davidheiser continued.

Another reason for the shortage, he said, has been the cement strikes.

Pickard added a localized reason—use on a priority basis by the super-highway builders of carloads of cement daily.

Davidheiser said the situation isn't serious enough yet to have reached the cancellation stage, but added, "A number of jobs have been slowed down."

Kerstetter said the shortage reached the acute stage two months ago, "and it's been getting worse all the while."

He said, "Nobody's holding back. There really is a shortage."

HUTT POINTED out that the shortage also has given contractors some price headaches.

Since March, he said, lumber had jumped nearly $30 a thousand board feet, from about $100 to about $130. This alone could add $600 or $700 to the price of a home.

"Every darn one of them's gone up some," Hutt said. "Copper's awful. It's up 20 cents a pound."

He said, "If we don't get more material soon, we'll soon quit."

Pickard said that the shortage had hit higher-priced home-building the hardest. Manufacturers, who can sell all they make, don't want to be bothered with the specialties re-

Garber Faction Beaten Twice at URW Parley

Special to The Mercury

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Sept 18—Clashes between Robert E. Garber, former president of Pottstown Local 336, and L. S. Buckmaster, international president, rocked the opening sessions of the United Rubber Workers (CIO) national convention here today.

But in spite of the vociferous leadership of the youthful Pottstown unionist, the opposition to the 56-year-old international p[illegible]nt suffered two initial setbacks.

Anti-Buckmaster forces were defeated in their efforts to ha[illegible] the convention as a whole sit in a body on the appeals of those men barred from membership following the Toronto convention a year ago.

They suffered a previous loss when a California local was refused a convention vote.

The appeal issue will be brought up again tomorrow morning when a roll call vote is held.

Garber, a cigar jutting from his mouth, was conspicuous throughout the meetings. He wore a white cook's hat bearing the slogan "Elect Joseph Ferguson" on one side, and the words "Defeat Robert A. Taft" on the other.

WHEN THE reinstatement of the ousted members was broached from the floor, Garber leaped from his seat several times to ask points of order. He demanded the convention sit on the appeals and listen to them as a body.

His proposal was voted down by a count of 251 to 212 on a show of hands.

As the vote was announced, Garber jumped to his feet again and demanded the floor. His request was refused by Buckmaster, who presided, since one of the convention speakers was scheduled to address the group.

Undeterred by the ruling, Garber demanded to know if the issue was closed. When questioned as to his reasons for asking, Garber remarked heatedly:

"I want to demand a roll call vote on the issue."

The vote was scheduled as the first order of business tomorrow morning.

PREVIOUSLY, W. R. Childers, formerly of Akron, Ohio, was denied a convention vote for a California local since the necessary credentials

Frost Visits Area But Takes No Toll

Light frost—the first since the past Winter—dusted the lowlands yesterday morning but did no reported damage.

The low temperature in Pottstown was 49 degrees, coldest since the past April 25, and in the suburbs it dropped far lower.

At Liss' dam on Pruss Hill Pottstown RD 4, the deep freeze locker of the area, Louis Liss said the morning low was 34 degrees. But no frost appeared.

At the Firestone Tire and Rubber company plant, where some frost was noted, the mercury dipped to 42 at 8 a.m.

Other low readings were: 39 degrees at Upper Perkiomen Valley park, near Green Lane; 40 at the Knauertown home of Oscar White.

Liss said flowers had not been withered by the near-freezing temperature, and tomato plants were left unscathed. No damage was reported elsewhere but persons at all points agreed the temperature was the season's lowest.

The mercury will climb considerably today, the weatherman said last night.

BARN DESTROYED IN $15,000 FIRE

Shed, Hay Are Included In Loss at Unger Farm North of New Berlinville

Flames of undetermined origin yesterday raged through a barn on the Daniel H. Unger Fruit farm, one mile north of New Berlinville, causing an estimated $15,000 in damage.

The loss, partially covered by insurance, included the barn, a small converted milk shed, 50 bales of hay, two disc harrows, some lumber and about 300 five-eighths bushel baskets used for packing fruit.

Purchased by Unger five years ago, the 40 by 70 foot barn was situated off the Weisstown road and was being readied for shedding and storage space.

The flames were first seen by Mrs. Leon Weil, who with her husband and seven children moved into an adjoining house the past Saturday. Mrs. Weil summoned her husband from the living room of their home.

WEIL CALLED for help, then dashed to the barn where he removed a car parked near the flaming building and the shed which had been remodeled into a bath and shower for 11 Puerto Ricans employed by Unger during the summer months.

Firemen from New Berlinville, Keystone and Friendship Fire companies of Boyertown fought the flames with booster steams.

Their efforts are credited with saving a second shed housing the Puerto Rican farm hands, and the main farm building.

A nearby stream provided water at 15-minute intervals, but five pieces of apparatus depended mostly on their booster systems.

Pottstown Hospital Will Launch Public Opinion Poll Today

The survey of public opinion being conducted by the community relations committee of the Pottstown hospital will get under way today with the mailing of the first questionnaires.

"The questionnaires will be in the hands of several thousand men and women in the next day or two," Charles L. Schulz, president of the board of trustees, reported last night. "But the people who receive them will be only a cross section of the population of the entire area served by the Pottstown hospital."

Schulz explained that this sampling method is being used to avoid the excessive expense of mailing the forms to everyone. He said the names were taken arbitrarily from directories and other lists by mathematical ratios so that the replies will be representative of general public opinion.

Also included, he said, was a substantial number of former patients of the hospital, "who will be able to express opinions gained from first-hand experience."

IN A FOREWORD to the questionnaire, Schulz pointed out that a continuing increase in the demand for service at Pottstown hospital has overtaxed the limited accommodations of its present buildings.

Schulz added that before the board takes further action it wishes to consult the people served by the hospital. "We consider this a realistic and logical

Conferees Approve 'Tough' Red Curbs, Ask Permanent Law

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18 (AP)—Senate-House conferees agreed today on a "tough" Communist-control bill and recommended that it be made a permanent law of the land.

McCarran

A major feature would permit the mass round-up and jailing of suspected subversives in time of war or national emergency.

It provides, however, that persons seized under the act must not be confined with felons or assigned to hard labor.

Senator McCarran (D-Nev), chairman of the joint conference committee, immediately challenged any legal basis for a presidential veto of the measure. President Truman's attitude is a question.

Declaring that the committee was unanimous in its final approval, McCarran told newsmen:

"In my judgment, there is nothing in this bill that is unconstitutional on which any veto might rest."

McCARRAN SPONSORED the big catch-all measure woven from half a dozen different Senate and House bills.

President Truman has said he would refuse to sign the bill as written originally, but later indicated he had not made up his mind about sections of the final compromise measure. Mr. Truman told his news conference last week he would act promptly—either sign or veto the measure—after it reaches the White House and he has analyzed it.

Members of the conference committee described the compromise as "even tougher in some respects" than separate bills already passed by overwhelming majorities in both houses of Congress. The Senate vote was 70 to 7, the House 354 to 20.

MacArthur Hits Red China For Army Aid to N. Korea

LAKE SUCCESS, Sept. 18 (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur charged today that Communist China provided a major share of the muscle of the North Korean army by swelling its ranks with 40,000 to 60,000 combat-seasoned troops of Korean origin.

Russia supplied the North Korean Communists with weapons and munitions sending in a wide variety of equipment as late as 1950, MacArthur said.

In his fourth report to the United Nations Security council, MacArthur made it clear that this outside aid pumped up the striking power of the North Koreans to the point where they were able to launch their invasion of South Korea on June 25. The U. N. commander pointed out, for example, that North Korea's industry "is not capable of providing heavy equipment such as armor, tanks and artillery."

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Jacob A. Malik tied the council up in a wrangle lasting more than two hours as he waged a losing fight to delay the reading of MacArthur's report. He finally was voted down ten to one.

At the end of the reading, U. S. Delegate Warren R. Austin introduced exhibits including a sub-machine gun. Malik ducked out of the chamber then rather than examine the exhibits. Other delegates showed interest in the gun.

UPON RETURNING to the meeting Malik called MacArthur an "obscurantist Fascist" and said the general's report was a "bloodthirsty document trying to justify" American aggression in Korea.

He accused the U. S. Air Force of attacking civilians and bombing schools, hospitals and homes. Malik maintained that the Soviet Union sold weapons to the North Koreans only when Russian troops withdrew in December 1948.

Malik's 22-minute speech was a reiteration of Communist claims that the United States is the aggressor in Korea—claims which have been completely rejected by the non-Communist world.

Earlier Malik had remained expressionless with his earphones off so he could not hear the Russian translation of MacArthur's words. Looking off into space he scribbled idly on a piece of paper before him.

The Security council's meeting today came on the eve of the fifth session of the General assembly in the old World's Fair grounds in Flushing.

GENERAL MACARTHUR

Slack Pleads Guilty To Red Spy Charge; Sentence Deferred

GREENEVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 18 (AP)—Alfred Dean Slack told a Federal judge today he was guilty of wartime spying for Soviet Russia and, through his attorney, begged for mercy.

Displaying no emotion as he stood before Judge Robert L. Taylor, Slack said he had supplied Russian agents with a sample of RDX, a high explosive, and the formula for its manufacture.

Judge Taylor deferred sentence after U. S. Attorney James M. Meek said there were "extenuating circumstances" in Slack's favor and recommended a ten-year prison sentence.

Meek said the ten-year term was agreeable to U. S. Attorney General Howard McGrath and the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Thief Closes Safe; Owner Blows Top

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 18 (AP)—A Newark businessman is angry today because a burglar closed and locked his safe rather than blowing it open.

Simon Abrahmson, president of the Interstate Iron Works, told police a burglar had broken into his office over the weekend and taken some $350 worth of office machines and supplies.

But the burglar carefully closed and locked a wall safe that was standing open. Abrahmson doesn't have the combination.

He keeps only business records in the safe and leaves it open on purpose because "that way the burglars could look in the safe without wrecking it."

Now it looks as though Abrahmson will have to wreck the safe himself to get his records out.

Joint Defense Army For Europe Backed By Atlantic Council

NEW YORK, Sept. 18 (AP)—The 12-nation North Atlantic council tonight "warmly welcomed" proposals for a combined international force adequate for the defense of freedom in Europe against Communist aggression.

The council made its position known in a communique issued after three days of secret meetings here. Persons close to the council deliberations said that every member of the council making up the North Atlantic community favored the plans for a combined army, but that one or two wanted to consult their colleagues at home before making a final decision.

The council adjourned subject to the call of the chairman, U. S. Secretary of State Acheson, during the next two weeks. During that time the foreign ministers in the council will consult their governments about putting such a plan into effect, the communique said.

The statement made no direct reference to the long discussions in the council on the problem of arming German military units and putting them into this military force.

French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman told the council that it was premature to rearm the Germans. He also received emphatic and direct instructions from Paris to stand pat against rearming Germans now, and the French protest was said to have held up action by the council.

O'Dwyer Confirmed By Senate, 44-22

WASHINGTON Sept. 18 (AP)—The Senate today voted 44 to 22 to confirm former Mayor William O'Dwyer of New York as ambassador to Mexico.

Approval came after the chamber beat down a motion by Senator Ives (R-NY) to postpone action on the nomination.

Ives said the Senate should hold back its decision until New York City officials had been consulted about reports that high police officials who served under O'Dwyer might be linked to alleged gambling pay-offs. He said he had no information to substantiate the reports but that the record should be cleared up in O'Dwyer's "own best interests."

Truman Forwards Civil Defense Plan

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18 (AP) — President Truman laid before Congress today the blueprint for a vast defense program to rally the nation from an atomic attack and enable it to strike back swiftly and destroy the aggressor.

Drafted by the National Securities Resources board, the program outlines a mutual aid system reaching into every American home and calling for the services of hundreds of thousands of paid and unpaid workers at the Federal, state and local level.

Mr. Truman called it a "sound and workable" plan for coping with "the potential damage of devastating modern weapons."

He asked Congress to set up in the near future a civil defense administration with a $17,500-a-year head, and to pass other legislation needed to get the program started.

THE PRESIDENT said he will create a temporary civil defense administration to serve until Congress acts. He also urged state and local officials "move ahead rapidly" with their own planning in line with the new national program.

Funds for the program will be requested later. Officials said it would cost millions, perhaps billions. They estimated it would take about two years to get the program into high gear.

As to the need for such a program:

For the first time since the war of 1812, said NSRB Chairman W. Stuart Symington, "an enemy has the power to attack our cities, and for the first time in our history that attack may come suddenly, with little or no warning."

Crew of Missing Plane Found Safe in Iceland

REYKJAVIK, Iceland, Sept. 18 (AP) — An Icelandic airlines Skymaster plane reported missing since last Thursday night was found today on Vatnajokull glacier with all seven crewmen alive.

The plane, last heard from 40 minutes out of Reykjavik, was bound for New York and had ten dogs in its cargo. Search planes have scoured the area for days.

Earlier, a U. S. Coast Guard cutter reported receiving an SOS call from the plane.

'Mighty Mo' Guns Thwart Enemy Drive on Pohang

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 18 (AP)—The U. S. Navy, in a special release from Korea, said today the battleship Missouri, firing its powerful 16 inch guns point blank at North Korean concentrations, had broken up a Communist attack at Pohang Sunday.

The release, datelined "aboard the heavy cruiser U. S. S. Helena" said the Missouri's action "broke up an enemy move to stop the advancing South Korean Third division."

The battle-experienced Third division was poised to open an offensive Sunday morning under cover of Navy carrier-based aircraft, but a low ceiling made air operations impossible.

Then the Missouri and escorting destroyers steamed into the area "at full speed," the dispatch said, "and laid down a curtain of fire that broke up the enemy's frontal attack."

Clue to Slayer Stirs Oakes Case Revival

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 18 (AP)—The British consulate general's office here today placed an "urgent" telephone call to Nassau in the revived investigation of the wealthy Sir Harry Oakes' slaying case.

A badly frightened man, Edward Majava, 31, told Oakland, Calif., police yesterday that he knew who bludgeoned Sir Harry to death at the Oakes Bahama island estate in 1943.

Vice Consul Patrick O'Regan today confirmed that he had contacted the British secretary's office in the Bahamas concerning the case.

"The name of the alleged murderer has been given and we must proceed carefully," O'Regan told the Associated Press here.

In Oakland, police again questioned Majava, a machine operator who was arrested Sunday on a charge of being intoxicated.

POLICE INSPECTOR James J. Mangini, who questioned the man, said he would appear in court Wednesday and probably be given a ten-day sentence so he could be held pending further investigation of his story about the Oakes' mystery.

Mangini said Majava, born in Finland, stated he had been told the name of the slayer by an American society woman at Fort Lauderdale, Fla., two years ago.

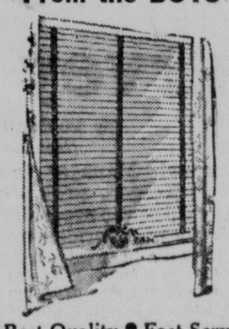

O'Regan declined to reveal details of Majava's statements to police. Mangini had said Majava informed him "a man told me to keep my mouth shut and get out of town—or else," after the society woman assertedly told him the name of the slayer.

Sir Harry's son-in-law, Count Alfred de Marigny, was acquitted in November, 1943, on charges that he beat the victim to death in bed and set fire to the bedclothes.

TWO INJURED —

150 feet from the first tree it hit to the point where it stopped, crosswise in the center of High street, with the entire front of the car a total wreck.

Broken parts of the car were found 50 feet behind its stopping point and 50 feet east (ahead of) it.

When Randazzo jumped out of his car, he found Seitz with his head near the curb by the third tree and his feet pointing toward the highway.

The driver was still in back of the bent steering wheel, too shocked and dazed to talk. There was blood on the driver's seat and floor of the car. All the glass on the driver's side window was knocked out.

Randazzo said he started to run to the Pottstown Auto Refinishing company, two blocks east, where he was headed before the accident happened, but this trip was unnecessary when Frederick R. Nettles, one of the many High street residents aroused by the crashes, came outside, then went in to telephone for a Good Will Fire company ambulance and police.

A GOODIES' AMBULANCE driven by Herbert Quinter took Miller and Seitz to the hospital.

Sgt. Thomas A. Lawler and Patrolmen Paul W. Bridegam, James Maloney and Andrew E. Kovach Jr. directed traffic, helped clear the scene and began the investigation.

Randazzo was able to drive his own car away from its stopping point by the north curb. Seitz's sedan was towed away.

Police said Seitz's car had failed to make the curve to the left and jumped onto the curb at the southeast corner of High and Madison streets, in front of J. B. Lessig's home at 800 High street.

With its right wheels over the curb, the sedan sideswiped a tree and a Philadelphia Electric company pole, slashing bark from the tree and gouging a long strip of wood an inch or more thick from the pole.

A few yards east on the curb, the sedan caromed off the second tree, in front of the home of Dr. Eugene T. R. Stone, 816 High street.

The third tree, a foot and a half in diameter, was hit head-on, with bark and wood chipped away on the entire west side of the tree.

Skid marks left by Randazzo's car showed it had swerved for 55 feet diagonally across the highway to avoid being rammed.

Although virtually everything else on the front of Seitz's sedan was smashed, there was not a crack on the right side of the windshield.

Obituaries

ASOF BATDORF, 85, formerly of Linfield, died Sunday night at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Huber N. Stone, of HARRISON VALLEY, Potter county.

Mr. Batdorf, a stationary engineer throughout his life, was born near Myerstown, Berks county. He moved to Linfield and lived there for 30 years, leaving for Harrisburg in 1917.

While he lived in Linfield, Mr. Batdorf was a member of the Linfield Reformed church, the Linfield Knights of the Golden Eagle and Pottstown Lodge 369, Loyal Order of Moose.

He worked at the Linfield Cold Storage plant and later for the G. E. Brownback dairy.

After he moved to Harrisburg, Mr. Brownback became a stationary engineer for the Pennsylvania Milk Product company. He worked until his retirement in 1938.

Since his retirement, Mr. Batdorf had lived with his children. His wife, Katherine (Gauss)) Batdorf, died in 1929.

Mr. Batdorf is survived, in addition to Mrs. Stone, by another daughter, Kathryn, wife of Clarence Burr, of Philadelphia; a son, Charles, of Pottstown RD 2; 14 grandchildren, and 11 great-grandchildren.

Services will be held at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the Oak Grove cemetery, Parkerford.

Funeral services for JOHN J. MONAGHAN JR., husband of Stella Kalinowski, a former Pottstown resident, were held yesterday morning at 9:15 o'clock from his home at 2428 Perkiomen avenue, MT. PENN.

Solemn high requiem mass was celebrated at 10 o'clock in St. Catherine of Sienna Catholic church. Interment was in St. Mary's cemetery, Reading.

Bearers were Linwood Edleman, George Long, Bruce Nagle, Robert Bechtel, Roy Lutz, John Mentzer, Woodrow Kirlin and George Misko.

Glenside Driver Dozed In Route 422 Accident

Robert B. Rosenberger, 21, of Glenside, driver of an automobile involved in a head-on collision early Sunday morning on Route 422, apparently fell asleep at the wheel at the time of the accident.

It was reported in error yesterday by The Mercury that the second driver, George Steinmetz Jr., 25, of 559 Wilson street, had fallen asleep.

Two injured passengers were in Rosenberger's car.

YOUTH SERVICES will be conducted by Sidney Weiss, a young law student, at 11 a. m. and 3 p. m. They will be supervised by Mrs. Harold Litvin, Mrs. Charles Leventhal and Mrs. Leon Levitz.

YMCA Campaign Nets 176 Members

The YMCA's current annual membership campaign has netted 176 new memberships, it was reported last night at the first report dinner in the YMCA auditorium.

The campaign, to end Monday, officially began last night. But the 87 workers, headed by Jacob R. Sotter, general chairman, have been canvassing for the past two weeks.

Sixty-one of the workers attended last night's dinner and heard the Rev. W. Hamilton Aulenbach, pastor of Christ church and St. Michael's (Episcopal), Germantown, say that civic responsibility begins in the home.

The campaign has no set goal. But 970 annual memberships of the past fiscal year have expired and "Y" officials hope to recoup at least that many.

The next report dinner will be held Thursday night at 6:30 o'clock also in the "Y" auditorium. The speaker then will be the Rev. Tibor Csikesz, pastor of Hungarian Reformed church, Phoenixville.

DRAFTEE FAREWELL —

Donald L. Ibach, 125 North Adams street; and Charles H. Mauger, 756 North Grant street. There's Ernest P. O'Connor, 860 South street, and John Sakal, 308 Berks street, Stowe. From Pottstown RD 3, Robert H. Schaeffer.

And finally, John R. Sell, 475 Farmington avenue, along with William F. Slonaker, 234 North Evans street and Van A. Wente, 172 North Hanover street.

That's the group.

When the contingent is assembled, Board President Charles L. Schulz names a leader. For the first time, actually, there is the feeling of authority as they are cautioned and reminded of the leader's responsibility.

POTTSTOWN FEELS pretty strongly about sending her sons off to the Armed Forces. And this morning she shows it. With pride and dignity.

Back during World War II, Pottstown escorted every single inductee to the station. And here the story takes up again.

The band of the George A. Amole Post 47, American Legion, is on hand to supply the music for the short but significant parade. It's to go east on King street to Charlotte, south to High, then west to the station.

Burgess William A. Griffith and Chief of Police James A. Laughead officially represent the borough.

Representatives are there from the Pottstown Veterans' council, including all the veterans' posts in the community. The Pottstown Clubmen's association is on hand. The civic and service clubs. And the women's groups have sent representatives; so has the Ministerial association and the Catholic church.

The massed colors present a striking picture as the parade moves out. The inductees, with their families, are behind the band. It's just about 7 a. m. and the early hour is something to think about, and talk about, as they near the station.

Farewells are given officially by Burgess Griffith and Draft Board President Schulz. And a few words by Earl F. Newton, chairman of the Veterans council. Doughnuts and coffee are served by Capt. Meral E. Cox, of the Salvation Army, who doubles as chaplain and offers a prayer.

There's a train whistle in the distance. Final handshakes between son and father; embraces for mother. No one cares if feminine eyes are moist.

With a rumble, the train rolls in, hisses to a stop. The 12 inductees move as a group to the designated car, each carrying his small hand bag and his carton of cigarets.

They turn and wave as they mount the steps. Fathers, mothers and friends wave back. The band begins to play. The train moves slowly forward.

It's all over now, except the swearing in at Schuylkill arsenal and the journey to the induction center.

From here on, men, this is it.

In the telephone industry, coated copper wire is used in dozens of ways...each important to your telephone service. It's "Tony" Cross's job to see that the wire his company sells to Bell Telephone and other customers is correctly coated.

Thus "Tony" is another of the thousands of skilled people in Pennsylvania whose work and wages depend in part on Bell Telephone purchases. Last year alone, Bell bought materials and supplies from some 2,000 companies in more than 200 Pennsylvania communities.

Who can confess his poverty and look it in the face, destroys its sting; but a proud poor man, he is poor, indeed.—L. E. Landon.

Crackdown on Hoarders

POTTSTOWN will stand four-square behind W. Stuart Symington, chief of war mobilization, in the measures he proposes to take against profiteers, who he told Congress, are doing the nation "serious damage."

Since the invasion of South Korea, hoarders of essential materials, Mr. Symington says, have engaged in profiteering which he describes variously as "disgraceful," "disappointing," and "disgusting."

What did Mr. Symington expect?

We thought it had been fairly well demonstrated that in any situation like the present one a few "get mine" individuals will laugh at patriotic appeals in their scramole to make a killing out of the national emergency.

Pottstown witnessed some of these "disgraceful", "disappointing" and disgusting" blackmarket, profiteering episodes during World War II. Some alleged "big men" of Pottstown have had their names inscribed in court records as blackmarketers, while Pottstown's youths were giving their blood on the farflung battlefields.

The decent people of Pottstown hope there will be no recurrence of profiteering here. The only way to deal with these people is to crack down, and we trust Mr. Symington will make full use of the President's mobilization powers to do so.

Obey The Signs

"SCHOOL ZONE" signs, disregarded during the vacation period, once again have become strategic signposts on the road to child safety now that hundreds of Pottstown pupils are marching back to classrooms.

The motorist must compensate in his own sense of responsibility for the excusable and wholly understandable irresponsibility of childhood.

He should not assume that a child is going to act with adult discretion in any given situation.

It is his job as a driver to make all due allowances for child behavior, with an extra margin of safety for his own peace of mind.

Parents also must share responsibility for their children's safety. It is well for fathers and mothers to understand this.

By setting a good example in crossing streets properly and instructing their children in necessity for care and caution, they can help immeasurably in reducing the tragic toll of child accidents.

Bike's Peak

"IN THIS age of super-convenience, city living and service-at-your-fingertips," the publicity release began, "the era of hardy men and herculean feats would seem to be on the wane." But, lest you mourn too deeply for the passing age of giants, list to the tale of "the century riders," a hardy group carrying high the banner of muscular manhood.

The "riders" are billed as "the world's most exclusive club," and they're likely to stay that way, too. Because in order to qualify you must be a person whose "favorite recreation is pedaling a bicycle 100 miles or more in one day."

Believe it or not, more than 200 bike riders qualified for "century"—100 miles in one day—certificates last year. These "centuries," mind you, are not done just once a year, but probably a couple times a month. Last year's century champ did it 62 times in 12 months; one fellow rode three centuries in one day.

This long-distance pedaling, says the bicycle information bureau of the bicycle institute of America—which may have an ulterior motive in this kind of propaganda peddling—is "an easy and enjoyable way to combine pleasure and health."

Anyone interested in a bicycle-built-for-two for a daily stint back and forth to Pottstown from Harrisburg?

Remember November Seven

A GREAT privilege will be enjoyed by the American people this fall — a privilege they will find difficult to appreciate because it has been handed down to them from generation to generation.

On November 7 general elections will be held throughout the country.

We should all remember voting is the individual's assurance of freedom.

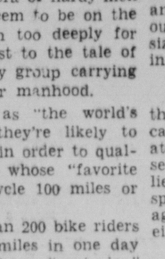

There is no ruling class in America, but the people who vote have within their power the ability to decide what kind of government we shall have.

Grampaw Oakley

PUNKIN CORNERS,
September 18.

Editor, The Mercury,
Dear Sir 'n' Brother:

Wal, I see by the papers where the Marines have hit the beach and Seoul sees hope. This is the most encouraging news in weeks. The fleet's in and are the Reds put out!

The weekend's temperature drop saw freezing weather in New England. Hailstones as big as quarters were reported by residents of one city. Hmm! Only a two-bit storm!

And say: George Bernard Shaw's beard annoyed his doctor, an item says. Is that the reason he's been wearing that chin spinach all these years?

Hopin' you air the same,

G. B. Shaw as an Example... Who Raises Prices?

A Case for Oldtimers

To the Editor: I saw a story in your newspaper that Mr. George Bernard Shaw had hurt himself in a fall at the age of 94, which reminded me that if the Pottstown school board had had its way with him, he would have been retired when he was 62, thus robbing all of us of his greatest play, "St. Joan," as well as the advantage of his salty wit ever since.

Most oldtimers I have met in Pottstown are pretty strong in the salty wit department and, not having as much to lose as the youngsters, are apt to be more fearless in expressing their opinions.

I can understand why the Pottstown school board does not want that kind of people around watching it.

Pottstown — J. O. T.

Labor Blamed Unfairly

To the Editor: I can't believe that the letter about prices ("Time for Unions to Help," Readers Say, Sept. 13), came from a sincere union member.

Once again we're hearing this propaganda about how higher wages are forcing up prices and putting us back on the road to inflation.

All right, the beginning of the Korean war is recent enough for us to remember what happened the very day it started—the prices of meat and other foods, clothing, shoes, textiles and a score of other necessities went up immediately, without any reason given. Remember?

Then, when the poor guy in the factory looks for a wage increase to help him keep up with the cost of living, he's told to cut it out, he's wrecking the economy.

Certainly, the people who work for a weekly wage don't want inflation, that's only common sense. They're having enough trouble now keeping food on the table.

Pottstown — INCENSED

Take on Builder's Troubles

To the Editor: A contract for $79,000 has been awarded to a Pottstown contractor for building a new grade school in Schwenkville.

Our school board said this building should be finished and ready for classes at the start of the 1951-52 school year.

We who are parents of children now crowded into the present grade school classrooms wonder how much faith we can put in this promise.

We read where this same contractor is having trouble getting enough materials to complete a grade school in Pottstown. If this builder's supply of materials is spread even more thinly, how much of them will go into the Schwenkville building?

There should be a requirement that the contractor agrees to complete the building by a specified date. That is the way it is done in private business.

As it is, the public is left holding the bag.

Schwenkville — A TAXPAYER

Harm in Word 'Gook'

To the Editor: I was glad to read in your paper that Gen. MacArthur has suggested that U.S. troops stop calling the Koreans and other Asiatics "Gooks."

It is not that this is particularly bad when done in combat, for after all, the GIs hardly have time to shout, "Look out, here come some North Korean members of the Communist party!"

The harm is done by all the people who imitate the combat troops, applying the epithet (who ever called his war enemy a nice name?) to other people. It also encourages people right here in Pottstown to use unpleasant names for people different from them.

Everybody has a name. If we don't know what it is, we can call them all "Bub."

Pottstown — J. K.

Draft the Reformers

To the Editor: It is very aggravating to read that the Army had to cut out giving free beer to the boys in the front lines because some people back home were objecting.

If those people want to reform the Army, they should remember that it's easier to reform from the inside.

And as the barker says, "There's plenty of room on the inside, folks."

Heavy Ballot Mortality In Senate Is a Puzzle

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18—Members of House and Senate facing the voters next November are racking their brains to find the answer to a question which may mean their defeat or their election, depending on whether they can solve the riddle. It is:

Why have only five of several hundred House members been worsted in primaries held so far, whereas five of the relatively few members of Senators have fallen in these tests of their popularity?

Not in recent political history has there been such a disparity in the fate of the members of the two bodies. As reasonable men, the incumbents believe that there must be a basic explanation to this problem of ballot-box survival.

Moreover, three of the senatorial conquerors—Smathers in Florida, Case in South Dakota and Monroney in Oklahoma—are members of the lower chamber. And their victims were veteran and influential legislators with more experience in statewide campaigns.

REBUFFS: At first glance there seems to be no central thread to this pattern of senatorial rebuffs and the victories of House members.

Two Roosevelt-Truman devotees, Claude Pepper and Frank P. Graham, were knocked off in Florida and North Carolina, respectively. Henry Wallace's 1948 running-mate, Glen H. Taylor of Idaho, was ousted. On the other hand, two ultra-conservatives, Elmer Thomas of Oklahoma and Chan Gurney of South Dakota, could not hold their seats.

In the House the voters retired two so-called "liberals," two anti-Truman men and one middle-of-the-roader. Lastly, although the "ins" are supposed to enjoy an advantage when there is a small turnout, as there usually is in a primary, the size of the electorate made no difference in the outcome.

POLICY: Although admitting that their diagnosis is not infallible, the political physicians seeking to cure themselves attribute the disproportionate number of senatorial casualties to the popular belief that the upper chamber is more responsible than the House for the management and implementation of our foreign policy.

The Senate, under the Constitution, has authority for confirmation of presidential appointees, including top officials of the State department and diplomatic envoys. It also has the power to ratify treaties.

Despite certain changes in recent years, when the House has originated money bills for such ventures as the Marshall Plan and other forms of foreign aid, the Senate takes the lead in the overseas field.

HEADLINES: The upper chamber spends twice as much time in debate on world questions than the House. Somehow or other, it also manages to obtain more newspaper space and larger headlines for its discussions of the Truman-Acheson program.

This conclusion explains why the Secretary of State has so many critics, and so few defenders, on Capitol Hill. It also explains why so many otherwise loyal Administration men, including Senate Leader Scott W. Lucas, of Illinois, are backing away from any discussion of any phase of foreign policy.

STRUT: There is, however, a more grassroots and down-to-earth reason for this senatorial mortality.

There is a tendency among the honorables at the eastern wing of the Capitol to regard themselves as statesmen instead of bread-and-butter politicians. They invariably dress more elegantly when they enter this exclusive club. They strut a bit more struttily.

Worst of all, they come to neglect their "constits" by traipsing to Europe or the Far East instead of patching fences and buttering up the home folks.

Tammany opponents of the late Fiorello La Guardia always used this argument against him: "Why vote for him when he is always in Washington working on big stuff, instead of here, helping you to tear up traffic tickets?"

The Voice of Broadway

By DOROTHY KILGALLEN

Jottings in Pencil

ROBERT WALKER HAS been offered the job of replacing Henry Fonda in "Mr. Roberts." He's debating it with his Hollywood advisers . . . Friends fear the current separation of the Dan Daileys is the "final blow-up," with no chance of reconciliation . . . Customs officials are slated to break a new smuggling racket which will make for international embarrassment when the headlines bloom. Lesser diplomatic officials have been bringing in diamonds, carrying them through customs in their diplomatic pouches, which are immune from examination . . .

Virginia Field

Roberto Rossellini soon will be represented in the U. S. by a highly controversial film he made about five years ago. It's called "he Machine That Killed Evil People"—very avantgarde . . .

A hit Broadway show just made a quiet, out-of-court settlement to a writer who had suggested the title and idea to them but never got credit, mention or money . . . Virginia Field is wearing a diamond bracelet from actor Willard Parker.

BROKERS WILL BE demanding $100 a seat for the now impossible-to-get opening night tickets to "Call Me Madam" . . . Van Heflin is being talked of for the Romeo role in Olivia de Havilland's version of "Romeo and Juliet" . . .

Didn't Jail Rosenstein (who wrote the daring "Hollywood Leg Man") get a poke in the nose from George Raft's pal, Killer Gray, outside the Beverly Wilshire the other night? . . . Intimates hear the Winston Guests (Lucy Cochrane) have separated. She's said to be living with her sister . . .

Marlon Brando's post-midnight calls from Hollywood to Gotham are beamed at Shirley Potash, Oscar Hammerstein's secretary. The switchboard operators at her hotel seem thrilled by the almost-nightly event. The other morning at three, when Shirley protested at being awakened at such an hour, the operator calmly told her: "Stop yelling—it's Marlon Brando!"

BILL DOZIER AND Pat Medina are a new West Coast duet . . . Lots of Main Stem talk about a 17-year-old singer named Dick Kallman. The experts predict he'll be a hot addition to the crooning ranks . . . Tommy Dorsey isn't breaking up his band, as rumored—just gave the boys notice so they could take two weeks vacation without his having to pay them . . .

Some of the swankest East Side hotels are being very hush-hush about the recent rash of robberies, but they wuz robbed, just the same . . . Gene Krupa and M. C. A. are feuding, may split . . . Monty Woolley is perusing scripts in contemplation of a Fall television show . . .

Barbara Baxley, Jean Arthur's understudy in "Peter Pan," drew three film offers on the strength of her recent appearance in the play while Miss Arthur was indisposed. o date she'd declined all bids, however, preferring to remain backstage at the Imperial, "just in case."

Pietro Do Donato, whose first novel, "Christ in Concrete," was a 1939 best seller, is working on his second book, "This Woman"—despite strenuous objections from members of his immediate family.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

TOM R., 31, works in the steel mills at South Chicago.

"Dr. Crane, how long would it take a fellow to learn how to make a good speech?" he asked, after I had addressed a Parent-Teacher association which he attended.

"When I get on my feet, I can't think of much to say. I stammer around till the crowd gets restless.

"I have been teaching a Sunday school class for the last year, and I think that experience has done me a lot of good.

"But your speech seemed so easy to give, while my talks are a great effort.

"Can you give me some practical pointers or shortcuts to public speaking success?"

TOM IS BEING unduly complimentary regarding my own speech for part of its effects depended on the fact that the public rather expected the usual dull, professional address.

This contrast, therefore, made it appear that my address was better than it actually was.

You are all familiar with the fact that sugar seems sweeter after we have first been tasting a sour substance, and vice versa.

This same principle can be utilized with profit in public speaking. Contrast your humor with pathos and both will register more strongly with the crowd.

They will laugh more loudly at a joke told shortly after you have recounted a pathetic incident, and, conversely, they will cry more easily after a period of humor. We psychologists call this the "rebound phenomenon.

Don't read your address, unless you are giving a radio talk.

A good speaker must keep his attention upon his audience so that he can perceive any restlessness or inattention.

Then he can slip in a joke to help catch their interest and also let them expend some energy via laughter, after which they will be more inclined to sit quietly for another five or 10 minutes.

But don't tell all of your jokes at the opening of your talk! An audience will usually give you very close attention for the first few minutes, anyway, even if you are a poor speaker.

For during the first three minutes it sizes you up and analyzes your little peculiarities.

A moving object also holds attention better than a stationary thing, so learn to walk around moderately while you talk. It helps hold the crowd's interest.

Don't memorize your speech. Make a few notes on a card to reassure yourself, but speak directly and in simple, conversational vocabulary.

And by all means, use the "anecdotal formula," by which you string relevant episodes on the central thread of your speech topic.

Send a three-cent self-addressed, stamped envelope with a dime for printing costs, if you wish my bulletin, "Strategy For Public Performers."

It will give you more detailed advice by which any average person can soon learn how to handle an audience successfully.

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 18 — Dore Shary's "Go for Broke" will really cause blushes on lots of faces — especially on the West coast. Based on the fantastic exploits of the Japanese - American "Nisei" combat team of World War II, it'll remind many people of the mistreatment these Nisei got during that period. The first two veterans of the combat team which won seven presidential citations have arrived here from Hawaii, to work on the picture.

Maurice Evans

S'help me it's true! Crusty Lionel Barrymore deserted a conference at the studio the other night — had to get home to see "Time for Beanie," the TV show for KIDS! There's a spy in your house, Lionel!

FOLKS OF FAME—GUESS THE NAME

1. This diplomat, born in 1889, was educated at Presidency college, Cambridge, England. He entered the Indian civil service in 1913, and held various positions — Department of Commerce for India in London, agent general for South Africa, ambassador to the Indian liason mission, Tokyo, and ambassador extraordinary and plenipotentiary to United States in 1948. He is now a member of the United Nations Security council for India. He became better known to United States citizens because of his peace plans in the Korean war. Name him.

2. Born on March 22, 1882, in Shelby, N. C., he was only 16 when the Spanish-American war broke out. He served as a teamster in an Illinois regiment until discharged. He taught in college, practiced law and in 1907 entered politics. He was elected governor of North Carolina in 1928. He later moved to Washington where he established his law firm. In 1944 he was appointed by President Franklin D. Roosevelt to the non-salaried post of chairman of the advisory board of the Office of War Mobilization. In December, 1946, President Truman appointed him ambassador to Great Britain to succeed W. Averell Harriman. He died Feb. 6, 1947. Who was he?

Pottstown Sketches

By PHILLIPS

ALL AROUND THE TOWN

Feather for Pottstown... Tapped for Service...

★ LOCAL BOY, ETC. - The National Forestry Magazine this month devotes quite a bit of space to a former Pottstown lad, Henry J. Malsberger, now of Atlanta, Ga., where he occupies the office of president of the Southern Pulpwood Conservation association. Malsberger was born in Pottstown, a son of the late William S. Malsberger. He was graduated from Pottstown High school, where he not only excelled in scholastics but also in sports, especially football and baseball. He is also a graduate in forestry from Penn State college. His wife is the former Dorothy Quicksell, daughter of the late William A. Quicksell, this borough, and Mrs. Quicksell. His mother now resides in Boyertown. He is the father of three boys and a girl. Immediately after graduation in 1925 from Penn State he headed to Florida and in 1931 he became a district State forester. In 1934 he was promoted to the post of assistant State forester. In 1937 he became director of forests and parks of the state. He was instrumental in establishing Camp O'Leno in Florida where thousands of youth spend the Summer months learning the principles of forestry. Fire prevention in forests is a main feature of the Summer course.

TAPPED — Lawrence M. "Larry" Flam, 1324 South street, a veteran of World War II fighting in Africa, Sicily and Italy, has taken his physical examination as a member of the Army's inactive reserve and has joined other Pottstown veterans in waiting for word on when he will be called. He was a first lieutenant in the field artillery. He is now a salesman for Kraft Foods company's Allentown office. His wife of five years is the former Carolyn Meyers . . . If you've been wondering when you'd get a new telephone book because the old one is becoming so thumb-worn, the time will be about the second week in November. Willard Kline, local Bell manager, said the dead-line for new names will be Oct. 11. Delivery will start Nov. 9 and continue until Nov. 20.

★ GRADUATE—Richard M. Hartenstine, son of Mrs. Ruth Hartenstine, 658 Walnut street, will receive his bachelor of science degree in electrical engineering, from the Milwaukee School of Engineering, Friday. Hartenstine is a graduate of the Pottstown High school. . . . One of the first shortages that will hit local housing construction is a scarcity of cement. Pottstown cementmen say cement blocks will be hard to get soon because the cement storages have been used up. . . . Probably no reflection on the size of the communities, but a Reading train had a little difficulty finding Pottstown and Royersford yesterday. The train due here at 11:38 a. m. from Philadelphia went right by Pottstown's station, finally slowed up at York street, then reversed itself and came back for passengers!

ESSAY — It's unbelievable, but a Pottstonian said it was written in a grade school, this essay he used to amplify on the old statement that out of the mouths of babes comes wisdom: "Cats and people are funny animals. Cats have four paws but only one ma. When a cat smells a rat he gets excited, so do people. Cats carry tails and a lot of people carry tales, too. All cats have fur coats. Some people have fur coats and the ones who don't have fur coats say catty things about the ones who do have them."

* * *

★ NEW DENTIST—Dr. Graham E. Martin, of Philadelphia, tomorrow will join the staff of Dr. C. S. Leventhal, 368 High street, in the practice of dentistry. The new Pottstown dentist attended the University of Iowa and is a graduate of Temple University School of Dentistry. Upon graduation, he was selected to Omicron Kappa Upsilon, a national honorary society, membership which is based upon scholastic ability. Dr. Martin completed post graduate work in periodontology at New York university and is a member of the American Dental association and Eastern Dental Society of Philadelphia. He served in the United States Navy for two years and was attached to the Army Air Force in Occupied Germany and Austria. He is married, the father of one child.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

EVEN in this day and age infestation with lice does occur. It is a situation in which public health nurses, social workers, and school doctors in crowded neighborhoods are often called upon. In the past it has been difficult indeed to handle. Though many remedies have been tried, nearly all of them require a great deal of patience over long periods of time; many are objectionable to the patient because of their odor, and some are actually dangerous in that they may cause skin inflammation in patients sensitive to them.

Recently a much simpler and more effective treatment has been worked out, using what is known as the "wettable" form of DDT. It has been found that head lice are easily eliminated by this fine, smooth powder which forms a soap-like mixture when mixed with water.

In carrying out the treatment, the patient first wets the hair with water, then a mixture of the DDT powder is made and applied to the affected areas and left on these parts for fifteen minutes, after which it is washed out with water. One such treatment will kill all the parasites, but does not affect the eggs that remain unhatched. These eggs will hatch within two weeks. Therefore, it is suggested that the fifteen-minute treatment be repeated once weekly for three weeks.

The itching is relieved at once after the first treatment unless there is some skin inflammation which complicates the disorder.

The treatment has been used on large numbers of persons and has not caused any skin inflammation. It is easily carried out and saves much time and labor.

If this type of DDT is not available, the ordinary DDT can be mixed with what are known as detergents to make a paste. It is then used the same way as the other preparation.

10 Quarantines Reported At Health Board Meeting

The Board of Health conducted its monthly meeting at the home of the secretary, R. Vincent Clarke, 32 South Reading avenue, with the president of the board, Dr. John H. Waring, presiding.

The board accepted the report of Health Officer Paul Hartman, which follows: Quarantines, whooping cough, 10; measles, 1; polio, 1; releases, chicken pox, 1; whooping cough, 12; and polio, 1. There were two complaints. One was investigated by the health officer and satisfied to his demands, the other was told to correct the nuisance as soon as possible.

Four Local Children Given Baptismal Rites

Four children were baptized over the weekend by two pastors of local churches.

Robert D. Weller, son of Lawrence and Mildred (Dotterer) Weller, of Englesville, was baptized at the home of the parents on Sunday afternoon by the Rev. Harper L. Schneck, pastor of the Church of the Good Shepherd, Evangelical and Reformed. The parents were the sponsors.

The following baptisms were performed by the Rev David F. Longacre, pastor of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church:

Susan Ann Sauppe, daughter of Luther S. and Dorothy A. (Bieber) Sauppe of Boyertown RD 2, baptized at the parsonage on Saturday afternoon. The parents were the sponsors.

Sandra Lee Schwarz, daughter of Jacob H. and Mildred A. (Hummer) Schwarz, of Boyertown RD 2, baptized at the parsonage on Saturday afternoon. The parents were sponsors.

Esther Mae Gilbert, daughter of George J. and Arlene M. (Dornsife) Gilbert, of Bechtelsville, baptized at the home of the parents on Sunday afternoon. The parents were sponsors.

Revival Services to Start In Local Church Tuesday

A series of revival services will be held at the Assembly of God church, East Philadelphia avenue and Franklin street, Boyertown, beginning next Tuesday, it was announced last night.

The pastor, Mr. Joseph Ziegler, said that the services would be held nightly at 7:30 o'clock through Oct. 8. Additional Sunday services will be held at 10:30 o'clock in the morning.

The speaker will be the Rev. Daniel Brubaker, evangelist of Columbia, Lancaster county.

Manila Papers to Open Philippines News Service

MANILA, Sept. 18 (AP) — Five Manila papers announced plans today to open a Philippines news service about Oct 1 under direction of Baldomero Olivera, who resigned as President Elpidio Quirino's press secretary to take the job.

The service will be on the cooperative principle, gathering news from the provinces for its member papers.

U. S. to Continue Buying Autos for Amputee Vets

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18 (AP) — Congress completed action today on a bill continuing for a year the government's program of buying specially equipped automobiles for amputee war veterans.

House passage without opposition sent to President Truman legislation authorizing an appropriation of $800,000 for this purpose, with a limit of $1600 that the government could pay on any automobile.

Bill Passes to Allow Gov't Sale of 10 Ships

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18 (AP)—The Senate today passed a bill to allow the government to sell 10 of its war-surplus ships for use on the Great lakes. The measure goes to the White House.

Passage on a voice vote came after the Senate had voted down, 49 to 14, a motion by Senator Martin (R-Pa) to return the Commerce committee.

Purchasers of the ships would be allowed to get back up to 90 percent of the sale price to convert the ships for lake use.

By 1948, more than one million barrels of crude oil were being produced daily from oil fields in the Middle East.

Just Between the Girls

By FRANCES WROBEL

WELL brush off my old clothes and call me a committee woman, if it isn't rummage sale time again! It looks like the real old look is becoming the popular thing these days what with so many duds-that-have-been-worn piling up on racks all over town. Getting out their cream of the attic are the members of the Navy Mothers club with a rummage sale coming up next Monday and Tuesday . . . place, Kneller's garage, 444 Walnut street . . . also putting their old clothes on the table will be the Women of the Fischer Bible class of the Transfiguration Lutheran church, Oct. 2, Junior Auxiliary of the Pottstown hospital, Oct. 16, and the Woman's auxiliary of the Knights of Columbus, Oct. 23.

The welcome mat is out: Say stranger! The Newcomers club is looking for YOU! Come on in and shake hands—get acquainted and into the swing of things . . . meeting grounds YWCA, 315 King street. Plenty of beaming smiles from club officers awaitin' at the door from Mrs. Karl Kemmerling, hospitality committee chairman, and Mrs. John Fraser, co-chairman.

Now you see him, now you don't: Al Erb, who spends his week days at Kutztown Teacher's college and his weekends between his Pottstown home and Westfield, N. J. . . . there's a brunet honey, Arlene Piret, over on the Jersey side.

Down by the beautiful sea: Having a fine time revelling in the sea breezes at this just perfect time of the year Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Wunderlick, Mr. and Mrs. Mervyn Wunderlick and daughter Sandra Lynne, of Star Route, seeing the sands of Wildwood.

What's old in fire, fraud, or famine? Anybody have any good old yellowed newspaper pages around, preferably from the year 1929? All donations will be happily accepted by Mrs. Florence Manthorne who's delving deep into the files of the past for some story bait. Reason being this lady of the "Players" is getting a ceremony down on paper for the Eastern Star. All that and renovating a newly occupied home, too. Will come the time (about two weeks hence) when the Manthorne Players get back to sound and story in the new studio at 541 High street which also spells home for the Manthornes.

Swing your birdie 'round and 'round: Nancy Werner and Frank Renninger promenading it around the Senior High school hall first night of the big square dance . . . Wearing the casual hayseed look . . . Charlotte Klump, Loretta Herman and Patty Rose in dungarees and whatchmacallits . . . awaitin' for the music to begin.

From westside to eastside thru a land abundant with beauty: Motoring through the wonderous American scene from Portland, Ore., to the door of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph L. Taylor, Douglassville, were the Misses Jessie and Katherine Moore who are filled with innumerable tales about the delights in Yellowstone National Park, the granduer and awesomeness of the gigantic presidential figures carved in Mt. Rushmore, S. Dakota, and the quaint old world atmosphere of Quebec, Canada. The Misses Moore are Mrs. Taylor's sisters who have come to stay awhile.

Putting one over on the gang: It's a slick trick, the old scissors game . . . great fun for get-togethers as the crowd at the Golden Age club discovered yesterday. Mrs. Bessie Loasch springing it on the members at the weekly round-up in the YWCA . . . it works . . . ah, but we mustn't tell . . . YOU may be the next victim . . . Passing and bidding going along at a terrific pace with Mrs. Wallace Keyser, Mrs. Annie Shaner, Mrs. Icie Baldwin and Mrs. Laura Anderson holding cards at the bridge table, same place.

Just a last peek at Summer: A veritable wonderland of blooming beauty seen just over the hedge in the back yard of Mrs. Michael Stofko's home, 211 North Keim street. Growing in solid formation within a large square patch is a rainbow of late Summer flowers bowing in red, gold and purple, before the Autumn breeze. Just profusions of chrysanthemum, marigolds, asters, and others, breathtaking to behold . . . with Mrs. Stofka it's a delightful hobby . . . with us, it's just like getting lost in an amazing fairyland of color and perfection.

Miss Helen Ebinger Becomes Bride of Mr. Richard Wells

On Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock Miss Helen Marie Ebinger, daughter of Mrs. Agatha Ebinger, Phoenixville RD 1, and Mr. Richard Charles Wells, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Wells, 327 Walnut street, Royersford, were united in marriage.

The double ring ceremony took place in St. Vincent Reformed church, East Vincent township, with the Rev. Michael R. Schmidt, pastor, officiating before an altar decorated with palms and gladioli.

Appropriate music was presented by Mrs. William Rose, organist, and Miss Vivian Moody, vocal soloist.

The bride was dressed in a white nylon gown styled with a high round neckline, long sleeves and a Chantilly lace yoke. Lace inserts were used in the back of the skirt and extended into the train.

Her fingertip length veil fell from a tiara of lily of the valley, and she carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid and rosebuds.

A SISTER, Miss Elizabeth Ebinger, was maid of honor. She wore a pink nylon gown with short sleeves, a high neckline and full skirt. Completing her costume were elbow length matching gauntlets, a headpiece fashioned like the one worn by the bride without the veil, and a bouquet of blue asters.

Mr. Robert Edelman, Royersford, was the best man. Ushers were Messrs. Roger Batten, Royersford, and William Christman, Spring City RD 1.

Mrs. Ebinger, mother of the bride, was attired in a green dress with black accessories and the mother of the bridegroom chose a navy dress with black accessories. Both had corsages of white gladioli.

Following a reception in the church the newlyweds left for a honeymoon to Niagara Falls and Canada. For traveling the bride chose a black and white checked suit with black accessories.

Upon their return they will reside at the home of the bridegroom's parents. Mrs. Wells was graduated from Spring City High school and is employed by Floyd Wells company, Royersford. Mr. Wells was graduated from Royersford High school and is employed as a clerk in the Atlantic and Pacific Tea company market in Royersford.

SECRETARY TO SPEAK

Members of the Women's Society of Christian Service of Searles Memorial Methodist church will hear a talk tonight at 7:45 o'clock in the church by Miss Martha Shoemaker, financial secretary of the Family Welfare association.

Brower-Bleile Nuptials Take Place During Recent Candlelight Ceremony

A charming candlelight ceremony took place Sunday at 6 p. m. in St. Aloysius Catholic church when Miss Marian Eleanor Brower, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Brower, Douglassville RD 1, became the bride of Mr. Charles Edward Bleile, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Bleile, Hamburg RD 3. The Rev. George Hiller officiated.

The church was elaborately decorated with white gladioli and palms, and clusters of gladioli were attached to the sides of the pews. A white rug was extended from the doorway to the altar where a double ring ceremony was performed.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a satin gown with Chantilly lace, fitted bodice with a peter pan collar, a peplem trimmed with a wide edge of lace extending into a deep V which blended into the cathedral train. An illusion veil cascaded from a tiara of orange blossoms, rhinestones and seed pearls, and she carried a bouquet of red rose buds and lilies-of-the-valley centered with a white orchid. She also wore a strand of pearls which were a gift from the bridegroom.

MISS NANCY Brower, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. She wore a Perriwinkle blue taffeta gown with an illusion neckline softly scalloped, fitted bodice and a full skirt which fell into pleats. Her headdress was an orange blossom tiara with a halo of Chantilly lace. She also wore matching mitts and carried a bouquet of pompons and lilies.

The bridesmaids were Miss Jean Brower, cousin of the bride; Miss Ethel Brower, sister of the bride; Miss Jane Murray and Miss Sophie Guss. They wore American beauty gowns and headdresses which were styled the same as the honor attendant's and carried the same kind of bouquets.

Flower girls were Doris Haws and Sharon McCormick, cousin of the bride. They wore blue taffeta gowns styled along Victorian lines, with fitted bodices, puffed sleeves and full skirts and matching taffeta bonnets.

The ring bearer was Charles Umstead, cousin of the bride.

MR. GERALD Bleile, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

The ushers were Mr. William Brower, brother of the bride; Mr. Francis Brower, cousin of the bride; Mr. Robert Bleile and Mr. Donald Bleile, both brothers of the bridegroom.

The bride's mother wore a burgundy crepe dress with black accessories and a corsage of white rosebuds. Mother of the bridegroom was attired in a grey suit with black accessories and also wore a corsage of white rosebuds.

A reception at the North Coventry Grange hall was held following the ceremony.

When the couple left for a honeymoon trip to Florida and Cuba the bride wore a Navy blue suit with red accessories and an orchid corsage.

The couple will be at home to their friends, after Sept. 25, at Mohnton RD 1.

The bride was graduated from North Coventry High school, class of 1947, and is employed as a bookkeeper for the Schulz Baking company.

The bridegroom attended school in Philadelphia, served four years with the Navy and has been employed at the Parrish Pressed Steel company, Reading.

Miss Moyer's Parents Announce Engagement

The engagement of Miss Geraldine LaRue Moyer, to Mr. Daniel LeRoy Wegman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter M. Wegman, Limekiln, was announced recently by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William R. Moyer, Pottstown RD 4.

Miss Moyer was graduated from Pottstown Senior High school, class of 1950, and is employed by the Doehler Jarvis corporation.

Mr. Wegman was graduated from Oley High school, class of 1948.

Groffs Give Party For Miss Ertman

A surprise birthday party was held recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Groff, Frederick, in honor of Miss Jeanette Ertman, who received many gifts.

A large birthday cake was on hand and refreshments were served.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mest, Mr. John Hosson, Mr. James Hosson, Mr. Robert Needs, Nancy Hasson, Donna Mest, Mr. Ray Groff, the guest of honor and the host and hostess.

Mr. Stephen Barna Weds Area Girl in High Nuptial Mass

St. John's Catholic church of the Greek Rite was the scene of a double ring ceremony Saturday morning at 10 o'clock when Miss Clementine Jennie Giordano and Mr. Stephen Barna were united in marriage.

Miss Giordano is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfonso Giordano, 42 South Main street, Spring City. Mr. Barna is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Barna, Benjamin Franklin highway.

Officiating at the high nuptial mass was the Rev. John D. Taptich, rector. Choir music and vocal solos were presented prior and during the ceremony.

The bride was attired in a white gown styled with a Chantilly lace bodice, high neckline, long sleeves and a white satin skirt ending in a lace trimmed train. From her veil of orange blossoms fc" a net veil trimmed with lace.

Given in marriage by her father, she carried a bouquet of gardenias and lilies of the valley.

Matron of honor, Mrs. John Barna Jr., sister-in-law of the bridegroom, was attired in a pale blue satin gown with a high neckline, short sleeves and full skirt. With this she wore pink hat and gloves and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Best man was Mr. James Giordano, brother of the bride.

Following a reception at the Merchants Hotel the couple left on a honeymoon trip through the New England states and Canada for two weeks. When traveling, Mrs. Barna chose a powder blue suit with black accessories. Upon their return the newlyweds will reside in the Belmont apartments.

The bride was graduated from Spring City High school. Mr. Barna was graduated from Pottstown Senior High school and Lehigh university, Bethlehem. He is business manager of the Pottstown Credit Bureau.

Family Gathering Held At Picnic on Lawn

A family gathering was held on the lawn of the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Green, of Harmonyville. A picnic lunch and supper was served.

Those present included: Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sands, Mr. and Mrs. Pharos Habecker, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth E. Sands Sr., and children, Kenneth Jr. and Harry, of Reading; Mrs. Jacob Dampman, Carol Beppel, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Dampman and daughter, Mary; Mr. and Mrs. Leo Dampman, and daughter, Joanne, of Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dampman Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dampman Jr. and daughter, Carol, of Douglassville; Mr. and Mrs. John Brower and children, Jean, John, Barbara, Bobby and Donald.

Also Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hoffman, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Lewis and children, Dorothy, Carroll Jr., Joyce and Joan; Mr. George Coulter, of Coatesville; Jane Fisher, Mrs. Horries, of Harmonyville, and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. George Green.

North Coventry WSCS Schedules Full Program

Tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock members of the Women's Christian Temperance Union of North Coventry will hear the theme, "The Door of Opportunity," at a meeting in Brownback's Reformed church, Ridge Road.

Mrs. Harry Frick, spiritual life director, will present the theme. The worship topic will be "Christ Is the Light."

Installation of officers will be a highlight of the meeting, and Mrs. Chester Tyson, president, will preside. During the business meeting the object of the year's work will be discussed by the various departments. Current events will also be reviewed.

Joseph Llewellyn Weds Julia Kramer in Chapel

The marriage of Miss Julia M. Kramer, daughter of Mrs. De Reiter, of Perkasie, to Mr. Joseph D. Llewellyn, Pottstown RD 3, took place Sunday in the chapel of the Church of Living God, in the presence of a group of friends and relatives.

The Rev. William H. Davis, Lancaster, officiated at the ceremony. Several selections were sung by a quartet which included the Misses Helen and Grace Snyder, Naomi Kramer and Patricia Davis.

Mr. and Mrs. Rhoads Attend Ashland Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Norman C. Rhoads, of 364 Spruce street, have just returned from Ashland, where they spent the weekend and attended the marriage of Miss Joan Barbara Major.

Miss Major is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond R. Major, of Ashland. Mr. Major was formerly of Pottstown and got his early start in the newspaper field in the composing room of the old Pottstown News. He is presently with the Shenadoah Herald.

The marriage of Miss Major to Mr. Alvin W. Kollosch, of Baltimore, took place in the Methodist church, Ashland. A reception was held in the Hotel Loeper, Ashland.

Mrs. M. A. Shaw gives her recipe for cranberry and grape jelly

HERE IT IS!

★ 1 cup homemade cranberry juice
★ 1 cup homemade tart apple juice
★ 2 cups concord grape juice
★ 2 cups Franklin Granulated Sugar

Mix juices; bring to boil. Skim, if necessary. Add Franklin Granulated Sugar; stir until dissolved. Boil rapidly to jelly stage. When testing, dip tablespoon into syrup. Cool slightly, tipping spoon till drops fall cleanly off spoon in triangles. Pour jelly into glasses and cover them immediately with layer of paraffin. When cool, follow by a second thicker layer. Yields two 8-oz. glasses.

"I use Franklin Sugar in this recipe as I do in all my canning, baking and cooking," says Mrs. M. A. Shaw of Wilmington, Delaware, "because I know that Franklin Pure Cane Sugars really add lots to food flavors—and besides, they give me Franklin's 'Famous Five' Advantages."

Franklin's "Famous Five" Advantages

1. 100% Pure Sugar Cane Sugar
2. Extra-Fine Granulated
3. Fast-Dissolving
4. Free-Mixing
5. Enriches Food Flavors

Gay Glitter Tickets Will Go on Sale Starting This Week

Once again plans are being made for the approaching shining two hours that the spectacular "Gay Glitter" show will bring on Nov. 8, when it is held in the Sunnybrook ballroom.

The director and producer of this annual extravaganza, Mrs. Albert Kessler, held a meeting with the admissions and prize committees at her home, 12 Maplewood Drive, last night and announced that the tickets for the "Gay Glitter" jewelry and fashion pageant will go on sale this week.

Mrs. Kessler, is again, as in the past, working in conjunction with the Memorial Hospital Woman's auxiliary and said that the proceeds from the ticket sales will go to the hospital fund.

The committee present, which formulated a plan for distributing tickets so that visitors as well as the townspeople will be accommodated, included the following: Mrs. Forrest L. Purnell, Mrs. Stanley Skean, Mrs. L. Ernest Pickard, Mrs. Albert Pollick and Mrs. David Mauger.

In addition, Mrs. Kessler enthusiastically passed along the word that the perfume and Christmas pageants are being worked out to dazzle the spectators with even more "glitter" than ever before.

Brownie Troop Gathers For Afternoon of Fun

Brownie Troop 22 of St. James Lutheran church held a meeting yesterday afternoon when the girls told interesting stories.

Suzanne Dilliplane brought in her pet frog to show the Brownies and told of how she raised it from a tadpole. Kay Marquette showed a peacock feather which she got from the Philadelphia Zoo.

The girls also participated in a pantomime game. One of the girls went through the motions of a certain vocation and the others had to guess what she was doing.

In the absence of Mrs. Dorothy Saylor, Brownie leader, Mrs. Betty Bitting presented Joyce Yost with a going away gift, an address book. The Brownies all signed their names and addresses in the book which Joyce will take with her when she moves to Buffalo with her parents.

Games were played and the meeting closed with taps.

Those present were: Barbara Bitting, Carol Brooke, Patty Christman, Suzanne Dilliplane, Janet and Connie Dilliplane, Kay Marquette, Lucille Mest, Carol Landis, Linda Hartenstine, Judy Nagy, Diane Polkinhorn, Linda Richards, Nancy Shaeffer, Joyce Anne Yost and Mrs. Bitting and Mrs. Dorothy Christman.

Because Wonder Bread Helps Supply 8 Elements Children Need To Grow Bigger and Stronger 8 Ways

Note How Amazing Wonder Bread Compares With Meat, Milk, and Fish 8 Ways (as shown above)

365 days a year, 3 times each day—every mother is faced with this simple proposition: My child must eat enough of the right foods today—or slip behind in the race.

This group of common foods supplies ALL the essential food elements your child needs 365 days a year: Meat, milk, bread, fruit, yellow and green-leafed vegetables.

Thus, these are the foods you will want to give your child.

Good for Growth and Energy

As shown in the chart, Wonder Bread is very valuable—because it helps your child grow bigger and stronger 8 ways.

Growing children need TWICE the protein per pound of body weight as grownups.

Penny for penny, Wonder Bread gives your child more body-building protein than the average of meat, milk, fish and eggs. Growing children require energy for work and play.

Wonder Bread is a substantial energy food. More quickly converted into energy than fat. And better in protein for child growth.

Helps Build Stronger, Bigger Bodies 8 Ways

The chart shows the 8 body and brain-building properties of Wonder Bread. Serve Wonder Bread with meat, fish, eggs, milk, fruit and both yellow and green-leafed vegetables in a balanced diet to supply ALL the food elements your child must have for healthy growth.

8 ounces of Wonder Bread for a growing child cost less than a dime a day. You can afford Wonder Bread for your child.

Doubly Fresh

Children love Wonder Bread. Plain or toasted. Because Wonder Bread is doubly fresh—fresh when you buy it; fresh when you eat it. Because slo-baked—13% longer than many ordinary kinds for lasting freshness.

Get economical Wonder Bread fresh from your grocer today—you'll be glad you did.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

THE Government of India Information Service, intent upon proving to Americans that despite all sabre-rattling at Pakistan, they still have time to pass along a good story, released the following recent bulletin:

Two friends, Ammu and Din, took an airplane to Kashmir. Ammu, unused to flying, was chilled to the bone when their non-air-conditioned plane hit a twelve-thousand-foot altitude. "I am freezing," he complained. Din sympathized, and sought to remedy the situation. Suddenly his face brightened. "I know," he cried. "Let's tell the pilot to stop those big fans whirring outside."

A traffic officer stopped an out-of-state motorist and said, "I'm going to give you a ticket for driving without a tail light." The motorist got out to investigate, and let up a wail of dismay. "Come now," said the officer, "it's not as serious as all that." The motorist explained, "It's not the tail light I'm worried about. What's become of my trailer?"

IN George Heister's hometown, Colonel Lemuel Witheringham, noble scion of an aristocratic but impoverished family, was known as its most silver-tongued and long-winded orator. When he died of old age, his obit in the Gazette read, "The late Colonel plunged into the unfathomable, soared into the infinite, and communed with the inscrutable—but he never paid cash."

When Mr. Greco moved his tonsorial parlor to its new location, he picked up an assistant who was polite as all get out, but just didn't happen to be a good barber. To one of his first customers he asked in his best Harvard accent, "Will you have anything on your face when I finish shaving you?" The unhappy customer spoke up through his lather, "I hope to save my nose, but from the way you're going, the odds are against me."

Everybody in America should hear the story of the lady who entered a grocery store and demanded a hundred pounds of sugar, explaining, "I want to get it before the hoarders snap it all up."

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Hearing Postponed for X-Ray Evidence

A hearing on two charges lodged against Arthur Jones, 625 Water street, who allegedly struck and knocked down Mrs. Susie Cooper, 623 Water street, was postponed last night until 1:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Justice of the Peace Raymond C. Kelley, of the Second ward, told Jones he was continuing the hearing because X-rays of Mrs. Cooper's injuries taken yesterday would not be available until tomorrow or Thursday.

Pottstown hospital authorities reported it is possible Mrs. Cooper suffered a fracture of the jaw or of the front bone of her face.

She accused Jones of hitting her on the jaw with a screwdriver, knocking her down and kicking her following a quarrel between their children. She charged Jones with disorderly conduct, disturbing the peace and assault and battery in a warrant sworn out before Kelley.

Jones was free under $300 bail.

CONTRACTORS —

quired in the $25,000-$50,000 homes, he explained.

Incidentally, he said, higher-priced home-building also is hit by the fact that new restrictions on credit grow progressively tighter as the cost of a home increases. The bigger the cost, the bigger the percentage of "down money."

Davidheiser and Pickard were agreed that there probably would be a loosening of the market within a few months.

Most of the contractors said they believed the shortage probably would loosen in a few months unless the war situation grew worse or there were strikes in the manufacturing industries.

AMONG THE REASONS cited for the optimism were: Near-completion of the super-highwway and of most mammoth metropolitan apartments and a relatively peaceful labor front recently.

All contractors said they planned to complete their scheduled work for the remainder of the year.

Davidheiser said his firm expected to keep up its rate of a home a day until year's end. Kerstetter and Veach company could complete the 17 Brookside homes. After that, the firm would look the situation over before going ahead with other projects, Kerstetter said.

Hutt said he planned to build individual homes on request for the balance of the year, at least.

He said requirements for contract-signing on Pottstown's S.ate project were almost completed. He said the project definitely would be under way well before the first of the year.

All of the contractors said they expected to face difficulties and delays of from two weeks to a month or more.

BOROUGH SEWERS —

pipe installation would cost an additional $6000.

Property owners would have to pay $4.25 for each foot of sewer line running past their land. For water, they would have to pay only for the connection to their house. The sewer connection also would be charged to them.

J. Wayne Knause, finance committee chairman, pointed out that sewer payments would start coming in almost immediately, helping the borough pay for the next job on the program.

SEARS NOTED that residents of Willow sttreet, from 150 feet south of Airy street to Wilson streets, also need sewers, and named other short stretches of sewerless streets in town.

* * *

THE TWO COMMITTEES agreed to start preparing the site of the Victor theater, adjacent to borough hall, for a metered parking lot as quickly as possible.

Sears estimated the cost of grading, filling, paving and painting and marking the lot and of putting in new curbs, at $4367.

Knause was asked immediately, "Have we got any money, Wayne?"

The finance committee chairman looked over a summary of the borough's financial position, department by department, asked a few questions, did a litle figuring and recommended that the job be started right away.

THE BOROUGH manager announced the settlement of a property dispute involving A. Eugene Smith, 303 Cedar street; the borough, and Robert Frederick, who plans to build a house on a Saybrooke park lot, near Smith's.

If Frederick had carried out his original plans, his property line would have extended out on the projected Cedar street. Sears told the group the property owner had agreed to move back 15 feet, making it possible for the borough to ordain Cedar street, north of Beech street, without condemnation proceedings.

A discussion of street lights and "bad spots" on streets and sidewalks rounded out the 2½-hour meeting.

Others present were Peter J. Lawler, chairman of the highway-sewer committee, A. Emery Lord, Earl R. Strange, W. Mark Henricks, William F. Lamb Sr. and Keegan.

GARBER FACTION —

were not signed by the local officers. A show of hands vote defeated his application by 253 to 211.

Observers noted the convention was following the same basic patterns as it had in the past. Buckmaster's supporters in nearly every instance were smashing their active opposition when issues were brought to a vote.

It was believed the Pottstown delegation was evenly split, regardless of the fact that Garber and four members of his ticket were elected delegates. Two of the men elected with him apparently are siding with William Rhoads, local president, on certain issues.

* * *

THE CHIEF ISSUE before the convention still must be brought forward. It is an amendment to the constitution which will increase the minimum local dues in order to provide additional income for the international union.

Buckmaster is seeking to get $1 or more for the international from the regular monthly dues.

Under the present constitution, locals may assess their members from $1.50 to $3 a month, 70 cents of which goes to the international. The amendment which would boost this minimum and increase the international's share will require a two-thirds vote of the convention.

Buckmaster, in opening the convention, called for union shop recognition from the "big four" of the rubber industry. The "big four" is made up of Firestone, Goodyear, Goodrich and United States Rubber companies.

Speeches by Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers (CIO), and Cyrus S. Ching, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation service, are scheduled to highlight the program Wednesday.

signed to the history department. He was graduated from Bethany college the past June with a bachelor of arts degree.

While at college, he was a member of the varsity basketball, track and baseball team and majored in physical education and history.

DAVID G. EDDY, a graduate of Amherst college, was appointed to the mathematics department. He received his bachelor of arts degree the past June.

A veteran of four years of wartime service with the Marine corps, Richard S. Heintzleman, joins the faculty as a member of the history department. He was graduated from Gettysburg college with a bachelor of arts degree in August, 1948, and received his master of arts degree from the University of Maryland the past month.

Another veteran, George M. Holloway, was named assistant librarian. He specialized in radio production and writing at the University of North Carolina from which he received a bachelor of arts degree in 1948.

He received a master of science degree from Drexel institute the past June after serving as president of his class.

Since that time he has been a member of the staff of the Swarthmore college library.

BEVERLY HOPKINS also was appointed an assistant librarian. She was graduated from the University of Oregon in 1947 with the degree of bachelor of arts in painting and drawing, and received her master of arts degree in art from Mills college the past June.

Remington P. Patterson, who graduated from The Hill school in 1946, returns to the school as a member of the English department. He was graduated from Yale university the past June with a bachelor of arts degree.

A former Navy man, Joseph C. Reiners Jr., will join the science department.

Reiners entered Colgate university in 1946 after serving as a quartermaster second class in the Navy and specialized in the study of natural science. He received a bachelor of arts degree the past June.

approach," he said, "to the problem of planning to meet the needs of the Pottstown area."

Results of the survey will be made public as they are received.

The first question aims to find out how fully residents of the region depend on both Pottstown hospitals for care: "Have you, or has any member of your family, been a patient in a hospital in Pottstown during the past five years?"

Other questions include:

"Do you believe that the hospital and nursing care offered this area should be kept abreast of the most advanced medical practice, even though costs be increased?"

"Do you believe that the hospital receives enough money from patients to pay for expansion and modernization of its physical plant, after necessary running expenses have been met?"

"Do you think Pottstown hospital should be enlarged and modernized to meet the steadily-increasing demand for more and better hospital care?"

"If you were about to become a parent, where would you prefer to have your child born?"

The committee included a question asking what newspapers are read regularly, believing that it is important to determine how they may best reach the public with matters concerning their community hospital system.

The questionnaire invites added comments on any subject related to the hospital.

Schools Superintendent Will Address Kiwanis

Dr. George A. McCormick, superintendent of Pottstown public schools, will speak on "School Finances" before the Pottstown Kiwanis club tonight, at 6:30 o'clock in the Elks' home.

QUICKLY FOLLOWING, units of the First corps, 23 miles farther north, crossed to the Naktong's west bank in 50 assault boats Tuesday morning, AP correspondent Bem Price reported.

This second Naktong crossing came under Communist attack, and Price indicated it was having rough going.

Skill Drills as . . .

Trojans Gird for UM

Anxious as they have been to keep everybody moving and learning something all the time, Pottstown High coaches just yesterday were able to focus some attention on important individual skills among the Trojans.

And figuring they had to unearth new punters, extra men and kickoff men, they considered it an afternoon well-spent.

For example, it was determined that either Mike Kriczky or Carl Petrucelli will handle after-touchdown placement efforts and that Stan Chaplin and Paul Duttenhofer will be the punters.

Otherwise, the entire Trojan squadron was run through punt return, kickoff and kickoff return drills, while linemen specialized in stance perfection and pulling out practice.

HEAD COACH Heeb Meyers, who had Upper Merion under microscope in its first game last Friday night at Ambler, briefed his club on what to expect from the Spartans who invade Friday night for the Trojan opener.

He sent his regulars through plays against the expected Spartan defenses, then lined them up defensively against what he figures UM will use for atacking purposes.

* * *

MEANWHILE, THE Trojan casualty list took on grave proportions when it was discovered that stocky Soph guard Bill Garrow probably will be lost for the season. The youngster was nailed with a jolting block in a scrimmage against Emmaus nearly two weeks ago, but only late last week was his injury diagnosed as a jammed knee cartilege.

His loss was considered a severe blow in that Garrow was expected to push his upperclass teammates for a starting guard job.

However, Fred Paprocki, who was bidding for the same guard job before gashing his foot at the Earlville camp session, was back in full gear yesterday and is expected to be ready by the time the Trojans face Ben Franklin here on the 29th.

Ready for action, too, was Dick Schlichter, reserve halfback who had suffered a slight knee and ankle injury last week.

WHILE MOST of Friday's starting posts are virtually sealed off by now, a spirited battle still is in progress for the opening pivot post.

Dick Hiddeman and Jim Long, a pair of first year men, neither of whom ever has played a competitive game of football, are running neck and neck for the job. Hiddeman is given the edge on punt formation snapbacks, but Long seems to work better with a T-formation backfield.

Neither, however, will be used on defense, because quarterback Stan Chaplin and fullback Sam Green will back up the line, while Paul Duttenhofer and sub fullback Walt Nixon will be defensive halfbacks.

Chaplin, incidentally, has drawn high praise from Meyers for his T-quarterbacking. A sub fullback-quarterback last year, Chaplin was employed principally on defense. But he has taken to his ballhandling duties nobly, his passing is improving and his deception gets better daily.

In other starting posts, the coaches are counting on Tom Pollick at right end, George Cisick and Harry Hausmann at tackles, Willie Walton and Herb White at guards, and Alex Czarick and Earl Decker at halfbacks.

Sports Slants

By JOE MUCH

(This is the fourth in a series of articles on prospects of Perkiomen league football teams).

Jot down a puzzle mark for Collegeville-Trappe High school football this Fall, for the Colonels indeed will be a puzzler.

Check me if I err, but on pure paper analysis, the Cols have the stuffing to whistle through the Perk league's designated lower bracket. Eight lettermen are back, the sophomore harvest has quality if not quantity, and a transfer student has supplied the Cols with a pepperpot quarterback to pilot their T-formation.

But heavy hangs the questions, to wit:

1. Can Charlie - come - lately Hoff, the new Col coach, guide his strange charges from a late start to game strength before somebody knocks their brains (and football inclinations) out?
2. Will a shallow reserve line hold up?
3. How much football do the Cols want to play?

THE LAST question may seem ludicrous, but history lends logic. Up to now, Collegeville has been wont to consider itself a "basketball school."

The designation, of course, is an offspring of several Col cage championships and near misses while other sports were struggling along in the mire of mediocrity. Much is made of a court victory, less of a grid triumph at CTHS.

HOFF WILL NOT go along with the status quo, but he is frankly baffled by it.

The dark-haired, soft-spoken ex-Temple athlete said yesterday, "They're not used to winning, we have to change that."

He turned the pronouncement over like a man who had met his problem headon and intended to correct it.

If the new mentor is to build incentive, he is blessed with an early opportunity. The Cols meet North Coventry in a Saturday opener, and the Cols haven't beaten Norco in lo' these long years.

Following the opener, Collegeville takes on East Greenville away from home, and a respectable showing against the defending Perk titlists would stamp the Cols as comers.

GETTING INTO the flesh of the Colonel roster, you can find an impressive array.

At ends, Hoff has Ira Robbins, a stringbean lad of 170 pounds who has pass-clutching paws; newcomer George Rouss at 162; and Gerald Keyser and Gerald Eastwood, both probably stag liners.

Veteran Pete Perosa at 185, and semi-experienced Fred Godshall at 170 probably will handle tackle chores with help from Ted Smith, Clemens, Walt Heidel and letterman Roland Rabuck, who can win a starting job anytime he's inclined to buckle to business.

Big boy Frank Heck could be a whale of a guard with his 195 pounds, but Marv Colflesh, 40 pegs lighter, has the native ability to be even better. Behind them, the Cols have Bob Strunk, Elmer Zern and Bob Powelson, who will be out of action for a time because of an injured hand.

Zern, incidentally, rates a major share of back-pats. He lost a great portion of his right foot in an accident, but does a neat job of defensive guarding with one half-filled shoe.

COLLEGEVILLE WILL be heavy at center with 200-pound Dave Meyers holding the inside track and 160-pound Alfie Miller lending competition.

But probably the prize package of the whole setup is a veteran backfield, anchored by 200-pound John Moorehead, the fullback.

Moorehead is an outside as well as inside threat because he can hustle his frame at scatback speed. But he may be forced to concentrate on plunges if Bill Macgeorge, shifted from guard, Don Hefelfinger and Jack Zielinski carry the mail as expected. All are fleetish halfbacks.

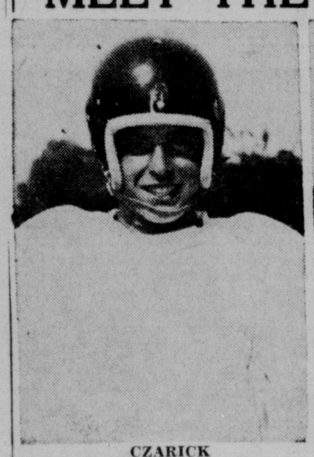

To run the show, Hoff has inherited Paul O'Shea, a transfer student who probably is the squad's most polished performer. His natural hustling instincts guided him to the signal seat, and if they are contagious the Cols may catch fire.

BUT THE HOP from hohums to hurrahs probably will be too great for the Cols to span in one shot.

There are eight games on tap. Collegeville can break even or go 5-3 at best. At this juncture, it looks more like 4-4.

MEET THE TROJANS

ALEX CZARICK, after two years of spearheading Trojan jayvee teams, steps into a starting left halfback role with the PHS varsity this year.

Tiny at five-five, 135 pounds, Alex is expected to give the Trojans breakaway possibilities from any spot on the field. Not particularly fast, Czarick is a quick-starter and tailored for T-formation football.

He needs only to pick up the knack of following his blockers to develop into a full-distance threat.

Never one to spare his energy, Czarick was belted unconscious in two jayvee games last year, but came off the deck both times to return to the contest. That spirit has won him varsity spurs.

Probably Czarick will see no defensive action this year, because of his size, but with the jayvees, he was a fine line backer when called upon.

Good-looking Alex is a track letterman and a golfer of no mean ability. He recently won a major tournament at Brookside Country club.

EARL DECKER, wiry, rugged and spirited, is considered an important gentleman in Trojan plans this year. He won his letter at offensive right halfback and defensive left end in 1949, and goes right on doing the same things this year.

A plugger and plower, 155-pound Decker seldom gallops away on a long run, but he can crossbuck for those important first downs when the going is the thickest.

Defensively, Decker is an unorthodox wingman who always charges quickly and can scramble interference and harry ballcarriers in one motion. Often he tosses a foe for huge losses, and seldom is his end turned without considerable agitation.

Football is Earl's one varsity sport at PHS, but he gave baseball a fling the past year and earned a reserve outfield position. He is one of the squad's most popular chaps chiefly because of his native good nature.

GEORGE CISICK has lease on the Trojans' right tackle slot for the opening contest with Upper Merion, and intends to renew that lease regularly each week.

A big boy of 188 pounds, Cisick counts on his junior high, jayvee and varsity experience to put away the challenge of several outstanding sophomore and junior candidates.

In 1949, Senior George opened the season as a regular, but a knee injury cut him down, and while he saw limited service throughout the season, he never was to regain his kickoff job.

This year, he reported at the Earlville camp with the vow, "This is MY year."

Middlecoff Turns Back Oliver On 20th Hole, Wins Golf Test

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 18 (AP)—Cary Middlecoff of Ormond Beach, Fla., won the $15,000 St. Louis Open title today in a "sudden death" extra-hole play-off with Ed (Porky) Oliver of Seattle, Wash.

They were slated for 18 holes and were tied there at 67, three under par.

On No. 20, Middlecoff made a 20-foot putt for an eagle three to take the top prize of $2600. Oliver cashed in for $1900.

The pair tied for low in the final round yesterday at 270, ten under par.

Middlecoff, last year's National Open champion, was trailing Oliver until the 14th hole of today's match. He went a stroke ahead there with a birdie three. They matched pars on the next two holes, and Oliver tied it up again at 17 with a six-foot putt for a deuce, to Middlecoff's par three.

They went for par fives at 18 and began the war of nerves.

Phillies Announce Ticket Plans for Series Games

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 18 (AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies announced today they will honor applications for World Series tickets postmarked after midnight (EDT) Wednesday, September 20.

President Bob Carpenter said the Phils will sell tickets to single games and that the ducats won't be handled in a three or four-game block as other clubs have done in the past.

"This way," Carpenter said, "we'll be giving about 92,000 fans an opportunity to see the World Series instead of 23,000." There are 32,500 seats at Shibe Park and no standing room will be sold.

(The Phils have not yet clinched the pennant, but hold a seven and one-half game lead over the Boston Braves with only 13 games to play.)

Carpenter said applications must be accompanied by certified checks or money orders with the name and address of the applicant written in the upper left hand corner of the ticket request. Applications should be sent to the Philadelphia National League club; Box 6925; Philadelphia 32, Pa.

Box seats will be sold for $8.75 each, reserved seats for $6.50. Bleacher seat tickets of $1 each will be sold at the ball park.

Carpenter said that under the Phillies' precedent-breaking plan, tickets will be sold for the sixth and seventh games as well as the first and second and that money will be refunded provided the sixth and seventh games are not played.

If the Phils win the National League pennant and there is no playoff necessary in the American League, the series will open at Shibe Park October 4.

Browers, Seniors Notch Court Wins

Brower's Boys and the Senior Trojans moved nearer a second crack at Erntex's powerful Knitters last night when they coasted to overwhelming victories in losers' bracket semifinal games in the Outdoor Basketball tourney.

Brower's club, paced by the 27-point firing of Brower Yerger, outclassed the Sophomore Trojans, 64-16, after running up a 33-5 first half lead. The Seniors bumped Limerick's Liners, 59-31.

Both games were played in the Junior High gym.

The two victors will meet tonight at JHS to determine the winner of the losing bracket and the Knitter foe for the showdown. Both teams had been beaten by the Knitters earlier in joust.

YERGER, A SOPH at Lafayette college and 1949 Trojan great, dumped in a dozen twin-pointers and three fouls to single-handedly turn back the Sophs. He meshed his fine offensive game with a good job of guarding stellar Dave Ricketts, who nonetheless scored most of his teams points on five baskets, a foul.

Yerger had 14 markers in the first half, while Vit Bruno was tossing in 11 to help fashion a lasting lead. Bruno finished with 13 points, while Joe Pollick netted ten on five buckets.

* * *

IN THE AFTERPIECE, the well-balanced Seniors had things all their way after rocketing to a 22-7 lead, thanks chiefly to Lou Iezzi's five baskets.

Iezzi, who holds the PHS and Junior High floor scoring record for a high school player, bucketed 20 points, while Dick Ricketts had a dozen and Vince Rettew another 13.

Don Ziegler, held to two points over the first half, found the range in the last to toss in five baskets and a pair of fouls, finishing with 14 markers, tops for the losers.

Jalopies Make Sanatoga Debut

Sanatoga Speedway promoter Karl Spatz expects a score or more of cars Wednesday night when jalopy racing makes its debut as a full program sport at the fast fifth-mile oval.

Spatz has been experimenting with jalopy shows from time to time, but never has undertaken to schedule a complete card at Sanatoga. However, he feels the oldtime, stripped down autos will give the fans a thrilling night of entertainment and, if the event is successful, may run jalopies more frequently in the future, he said.

Falcons Hope To End Losing Run Saturday

By JOE CAPALDI

When the West Pottsgrove High school take on the West Reading Cowboys Saturday afternoon they will be out to break a long series of setbacks. The Stowe combination hasn't had a drink at the well since it turned back Collegeville, 26-19 way back in 1948.

Coach Charlie Kasmerovicz plans to throw everything in the books at his team this week to bolster hopes of defeating the Cowboys who recently turned in a 19-13 victory over Coplay High.

The Falcons haven't defeated the Berks county squad since 1944 when they came home with a 22-7 victory. The next year the Falcons managed to get a 18-18 tie. 1946 proved to be the big year in West Reading when they completely outclassed Stowe, 25-0.

Again in 1947 it was West Reading winning, 7-0. The West Pottsgrove team improved a little in 1948, but lost, 7-6. Last season West Reading romped again, 18-0.

Coach Kasmerovicz, feeling that his team was a little weak on defense, has been stressing that department in most of his practice sessions.

The stubby Falcon mentor said that he hopes to have his team in tiptop shape for Saturday's opener.

He figures the Falcons will have to stop little Carl Snellenbach, who eluded the whole Coplay team last week and ran 76 yards for a touchdown. Carl was one of the key men on the West Reading squad that last year swamped the Stowe eleven.

Frank Sedgman Tops Schroeder

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 18 (AP)—Australian champion Frank Sedgman defeated the veteran American star, Ted Schroeder, in the finals of the 24th annual Pacific Southwest tennis tournament today by scores of 9-7, 6-3, 6-2.

Shuffleboard Loop to Meet

The Pottstown Clubman's shuffleboard league will hold an organization meeting tomorrow evening at the Pottstown Quoit club, for the purpose of reforming the loop which ended its initial season of play earlier this year.

The meeting will begin at 8 o'clock, and all managers or other representatives of all clubs entered last year—St. John's, Eagles, Diecaster, Quoit Club, Phoenixville American Legion, Linfield Fire company, Moose, and the Elks, and representatives of any new teams interested in joining are invited to attend.

Officers of the loop said that they would like to have a 10 or 12 team circuit this year. Last year's league had eight members.

Hard Way to Make a Living

Gabelsville Gridders To Open Under Lights

The Gabelsville Owls, one of the area's top semi-pro football units, will open their 1950 campaign Saturday night under the lights at Gabelsville against the Allentown Scholastics, it was announced last night.

It will be the first nocturnal adventure at home for the Owls. A portable lighting system will be set up for the affair.

A spokesman for the Gabelsville Athletic association said last night that the Owls expect to field one of the strongest teams in a long history of topflight football at Gabelsville.

Coach Truck Yentsch, back at the helm of the Owls, has welcomed nearly 50 former high school and college standouts to Owl drills. Before the opening contest, he faces the tough task of trimming the squad to a wieldy 25 players.

Among the candidates who reported to the Albright college assistant mentor are several ex-Pottstown High greats. They include three top performers on the 1940 Maria Assunta club, Paul Axsmith, Claude Reinhart and John Pinder. Pinder and Axsmith are backs, Reinhart an end.

Also from Pottstown, Chuck Wiley, Joe Pollick and Bob Calvario are making bids for starting berths with the Owls.

Last year the Yentsch-guided Gabelsville unit trimmed the Scholastics, divided two games with Maria Assunta and nicked Reading's VVV eleven in a classic at Albright stadium on Thanksgiving Day to rate high among area independents.

AFL Drops Playoffs

NEW YORK, Sept. 18 (AP)—Club owners in the six-team American Football league voted to drop the Shaughnessy playoff in favor of a single game involving the two top ranking clubs. Richmond, the percentage winner last year, also won the playoffs.

Sox Tame Tigers, Take 2nd; Dodgers Sink, Giants Romp

DETROIT, Sept. 18 (AP)—Boston's Red Sox roared from behind with a big two-run ninth inning today to nip the Detroit Tigers 3-2 and slip past them into second place in the American League race.

The hard-earned victory moved the Boston club to within a game of the league leading New York Yankees who were idle today.

Detroit by losing slipped to third place, the lowest it has been yet in the pennant scramble.

Ellis Kinder, making his fifth relief appearance in the last five days, was the key man in the Red Sox triumph as he again squelched a Tiger rally in the ninth.

Kinder repeated yesterday's performance in which the Red Sox also squeezed in with a 3-2 decision to start them on a sweep of the important two game series.

Rookie righthander Willard Nixon and Detroit's Hal Newhouser tangled in a pitching duel for eight innings but neither was around at the finish of the action packed battle before 24,485 spectators.

A fielding error and a mental lapse by Newhouser figured in the Red Sox' big ninth which saw them push over the two big runs that meant the ball game.

* * *

BILL GOODMAN started the Red Sox ninth with a single to center. Ted Williams then topped a grounder which bounced high in the air, Williams getting an infield hit as Newhouser fielded the ball and threw wild to first for an error which let Goodman move to third.

The lean Tiger lefthander apparently upset over his fielding lapse took a full windup on his first pitch to Vern Stephens and Williams stole second with ease.

Newhouser was yanked immediately with Hal White taking over and walking Stephens intentionally to load the bases with none out. Walt Dropo singled to center, scored Goodman with the tying run, and Williams raced home with the winning run after Bobby Doerr flied deep to center.

Rookie Nixon who had pitched great ball weakened in the ninth as he threw three straight balls to Tiger leadoff man Joe Ginsberg.

In came fireman Kinder who grudgingly walked Ginsberg and saw pinch-hitter Pat Mullin sacrificing him to second.

THAT PUT IT up to pinch hitter Charlie Keller who tagged Kinder for a booming triple in the ninth inning of yesterday's game. King Kong slashed two vicious foul drives into the right field stands before he popped tamely to Bobby Doerr.

Kinder got Gerry Priddy on an infield out and the Red Sox were a jubilant bunch of second-place ball players.

It was the third straight setback for the weak-hitting Detroiters who lost two out of three to the Yankees before dropping both games of the Red Sox series.

Dropo was the big gun in the Boston attack as he got a double and two singles and drove in the tying run. No Tiger got more than one hit.

Brooks Kayoed

BROOKLYN, Sept. 18 (AP)—Ron Northey's pinch-homer with the bases loaded in the seventh inning proved the decisive blow today as the Chicago Cubs whipped Brooklyn's faltering Dodgers, 9-7, despite Tommy Brown's three homers.

The defeat dropped the third place Dodgers nine games behind the pace-setting Philadelphia Phillies. The Brooks now are only one-half game ahead of the fourth-place New York Giants.

Northey's grand slam wallop was made off relief pitcher Dan Bankhead. Bankhead had just replaced starter and losing pitcher Preacher Roe.

The Dodgers fought back with four runs in the eighth, including Brown's third homer, a two-run hit. But Dutch Leonard, third Cub pitcher, put out the blaze.

Brown drove in five runs with his home runs and in addition got a single and walk for a perfect day at bat.

Ransom Jackson and Wayne Terwilliger also hit homers for Chicago.

Jansen Fires Blank

NEW YORK, Sept. 18 (AP)—Larry Jansen of New York hurled his fifth shutout of the season today as he blanked the St. Louis Cardinals, 13-0.

The Giants backed up Jansen's superb pitching with a 13-hit attack on four Card pitchers. The crack righthander's whitewash job was the 18th turned in by New York flingers.

Jansen retired the first 14 Cards before Bill Howerton doubled to right. Relief pitcher Erv Dusak's double in the sixth was the other St. Louis hit. It was Larry's 17th win against 12 losses.

The Giants got off to a four-run start in the first inning and were home free after that. Wes Westrum's three-run double climaxed that spree. A five-run outburst in the third clinched matters.

Guest of Honor

LEXINGTON, Sept 18 (AP)—Walter Morrison Jeffords has been chosen as the guest of honor for the Thoroughbred Club of America's annual testimonial dinner to be held here Oct. 19.

Adolescent Problems Discussed at 'Ford PTA by Psychiatrist

Dr. Steven Hammerman, instructor of psychiatry at University of Pennsylvania, spoke to a group of 150 attending the monthly meeting of Royersford Parent-Teacher association in the high school auditorium last night.

Discussing the subject, "What the Adolescent Owes to His Family," the university professor told them this simply was to grow up.

Tracing the habits of youth during the period of adolescence, he remarked it is a comparatively easy matter to keep a record of the adolescents physically and mentally, but it requires more knowledge and time to keep track of their emotional growth.

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. David E. Finkbiner, chairman of the program committee.

During the business session, Mrs. Fred Heller, president, outlined various projects for the year, the first of which will be play materials for the primary grades.

MRS. FRED SCHAD reported good progress on plans for a fashion frolic, to be given Oct. 12.

Mrs. Albert Reinmuth, membership committee chairman, reported 164 members. Mrs. Bertram Brandreth, chairman of recreation, reported a tea was given recently for mothers of the kindergarten and First grade children. Report was made the health committee chairman, Mrs. Boyer, resigned. Mrs. Jackson Breaks, publicity committee chairman, reported material is being gathered for a scrap book.

The meeting opened with the flag salute, led by a Boy Scout and a Girl Scout; devotions, led by Bertram Brandreth, superintendent of the Methodist Sunday school; and group singing of "Star Spangled Banner."

Mrs. David Finkbiner, program committee chairman, announced a panel discussion on "Making Our Schools Meet the Needs of Our Community" will highlight the next meeting. The hospitality committee served tea after the meeting.

Rivercrest Group to Meet Tonight at Britton Home

Auxiliary No. 2 of Rivercrest preventorium will hold its monthly meeting tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Paul S. Britton, 203 Main street, Royersford, with Mrs. John Brunner as co-hostess. Mending will be done for Rivercrest at the meeting.

TO ELECT OFFICERS

Officers will be elected at a meeting of Marcella Rebekah lodge, Spring City, tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in Odd Fellows hall.

Reunion Conducted By 'Ford High School Classes of 1916-17

High school days and fond memories of over 30 years ago were recalled at a reunion of Royersford high school graduating classes of 1916 and 1917 Saturday afternoon.

The affair, attended by 31 persons, some of whom had not seen each other for 30 years, took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. C. Finkbiner, Pennhurst road, Spring City RD 1.

After spending most of the time reminiscing over old times, supper was served on the spacious lawn by the women's group of Bethel Methodist church. Plans were laid for a big meeting, to be held next year, to observe the 35th reunion of the 1916 class.

The 1916 class had 18 members. In 1917 there were 14 graduates. Attending Saturday's reunion were some members of each class, with their husbands and wives and a few guests. One of the guests was Miss Jean Bassett, Pottstown, who was commercial teacher in the 'Ford high school at that time.

THOSE PRESENT included: 1916 class, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Richards, Plymouth meeting; Mr. and Mrs. George Diehl, Norristown; Dr. and Mrs. William Williamson, Overbrook, and guest, Dare Heritage, Audubon, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. Willard Wright, St. Davids; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Landes, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Walt, Royersford; and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Bush, Spring City.

1917 class, Mr. and Mrs. Finkbiner, Mr. and Mrs. William Harbison, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Simon, Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Fleming and Miss Emma Hurter, all of Twin Boroughs; Miss Kathryn Wright, Wilmington, Del., and guest, Mrs. Lewis, Norristown; and Charles Detwiler, Huntingdon.

Nancy Moyer Becomes Late Summer Bride Of Robert F. Renninger in Lutheran Church

A honeymoon in Atlantic City, N. J., is being enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Francis Renninger after their marriage Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in Grace Lutheran church.

Mrs. Renninger is the former Miss Nancy Louise Moyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Moyer, 32 West Fourth street. Mr. Renninger is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eden Renninger, Frederick.

The Rev. Edgar S. Brown Jr., pastor, officiated at the double ring ceremony. Bridal music was presented by Miss Florence Erb, organist, and Miss Marilyn Klein, cousin of the bride, vocal soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a two-piece white satin ballerina length gown styled with long sleeves and buttoned at the wrists. The V neckline featured a tailored collar and buttoned to the waist. A full peplum highlighted the full skirt.

HER SHOULDER length veil fell from a white satin cap trimmed with lily of the valley. She carried a prayerbook topped with white orchids, and white pompons attached to streamers.

Matron of honor aws Mrs. Nancy Wynne, Tamarac farm, Boyertown RD 1. She was gowned in a dress styled like the bride's in light turquoise. Her cap was trimmed with lily of the valley with streamers and a bow in the back. She carried a bouquet of yellow and bronze pompons and chrysanthemums.

Best man was Mr. Willard Kolb, Frederick. Ushers were Messrs. Richard Moyer, brother of the bride, and Ernest Renninger, brother of the bridegroom.

The bridegroom's mother wore a hunter green dress with toast accessories, while the bride's mother chose a teal blue dress with black accessories. Both wore corsages of white pompons.

Following a reception in the social room of the church, the couple left for their honeymoon trip. Mrs. Renninger chose a toast suit with dark brown accessories and a white orchid for traveling.

When they return they will reside in their newly furnished apartment in Frederick. The bride was graduated from Pottstown Senior High school and is employed in the office of Evans, Conger company. Mr. Renninger attended Boyertown High school, served for a year with the U. S. Army Air Force, and is employed by Boyertown Eastern Foundry, Boyertown.

Salvation Army Installs Officers During Meeting

Officers were installed last night at the first meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Salvation Army in the King street citadel. The president, Mrs. Oscar Overholtzer presided.

Annual reports were given by committee chairmen.

Those elected to office were: president, Mrs. Overholtzer; vice president, Miss Marion Shollenberger; second vice president, Mrs. George Weber; recording secretary, Mrs. Clara Keim corresponding secretary, Mrs. Donald Vanderslice; treasurer, Mrs. O. C. Beacraft.

The following committee chairman were also named: Membership, Mrs. Fay Speer; house, Mrs. Ernest Leidenberger; welfare, Mrs. Meral Cox; sick and visiting, Mrs. Mabel Biekle; program, Mrs. Laura Sassaman; hospitality, Mrs. George Weber; ways and means, Miss Marian Shallenberger; attendance, Mrs. Minnie Rhodes; needle work, Mrs. Beacraft; rummage, Mrs. Marie Hanley and Mrs. Marie Rotz.

A request for yarn was made by Mrs. Beacraft. It will be used for making mittens.

The program was in charge of Capt. Meral Cox who presented a film titled, "That's How It Happened."

Refreshments were served and a new member, Mrs. Pearl Yerger, was introduced.
